VRPR ON U.S. PLAN TO BUILD KOREAN WAR MONUMENT

SK040317 (Clandestine) Voice of the RPR in Korean to South Korea 1000 GMT
30 May 85

[Commentary by Kim Chol-min]

[Text] According to a foreign news report from Washington, U.S. Republican Senator William Armstrong announced that he would submit to the U.S. Congress a bill calling for building a monument in Washington honoring those who participated in the Korean War. It is said that a similar bill was previously submitted to the House of Representatives.

At a time when the people of the world as well as our people oppose war, the U.S. aggressors are trying to build a monument for those who were defeated after starting an aggressive war and who went on a journey from which they did not return. Indeed, this enrages us.

Why does the Reagan administration try to do such a bizarre thing? I believe that the aim of this attempt is to drive those concerned to an aggressive war by dispelling the feeling of war-weariness that has increased in the United States with the passage of time and by promoting aggressive sentiment by honoring those who went on a journey from which no one returned.

Referring to this, a foreign correspondent in Washington said that in order to fulfill a great power's wild desire, Washington was trying to diminish the crime of those who imposed immeasurable sufferings on the people of the Korean peninsula and to encourage them to prepare for a new armed adventure.

A game has been played in the United States for a long time to cherish the memory of those officers and men who were killed in aggressive wars. A monument was built in Washington a few years ago for those who participated in the Indochina war. This shows that the Reagan administration regards armed interference in other countries as a basis of its foreign policy.

I believe that the aim of building monuments for army officers and men is to defend the country by cherishing the memory of those who sacrificed their lives in their struggle against foreign aggression and by following the example set by them in displaying patriotism. However, the United States is trying to build a monument for those who were killed in an aggressive war against another country. We interpret this as an attempt to engage in aggression by following a policy of aggression. In particular, the U.S. attempt to build a monument for those who participated in the Korean War shows that the United States is making preparations for touching off an aggressive war once again on the Korean peninsula by planning retaliation against our people.

The United States has already completed material preparations for provoking a nuclear war in this land. It has deployed more than 40,000 U.S. troops in this land and by instigating Chon Tu-hwan has activated an armed force totaling nearly 1 million men, the Homeland Defense Reserve Force numbering more than 4 million, and the militia numbering more than 4 million. It has modernized the U.S. forces in South Korea and the armed forces by deploying more than 1,000 nuclear weapons and sophisticated military hardware in this land and has made full war preparations by continuously staging war exercises, including the "Team Spirit" exercises, which resemble real war. This is aimed at driving army officers and men to an aggressive war by arming them spiritually.

As part of preparations for achieving this aim, the United States is trying to touch off a second Korean War by building a monument in Washington for those who participated in the Korean war and by promoting the feeling of aggression and a retaliatory spirit. We should increase our wariness against the U.S. maneuvers to touch off a nuclear war in this land and should resolutely wage an antiwar and antinuclear struggle.

TALKS ON ANTI-U.S. STRUGGLE

U.S. Nuclear War Moves

SK090530 (Clandestine) Voice of the RPR in Korean to South Korea 1000 GMT
7 Jun 85

[Roundtable talk among station commentators Kim and Yun and two announcers--one male and one female--entitled "The United States Which Is Attempting To Turn the Korean Peninsula Into a Nuclear Battlefield," from the Program "Today's Feature"]

[Text] [Male announcer] How are you? Since the university students' sit-in struggle at the American Cultural Center in Seoul, the government-patronized press has tended to report that the anti-nuclear and anti-U.S. slogans shouted on campuses result from students' unconditional acceptance and following of the anti-nuclear declaration issued by our RPR. This is an insult to the patriotic students, a far-fetched and short-sighted sophistry, and deliberately concocted false propaganda. What do you think about this?

[Commentator Kim] That's true. Such remarks are indeed absurd. The anti-nuclear and anti-U.S. sentiment among students, democratic personages, and the people of all strata is by no means a phenomenon influenced by outsiders. In a nutshell, such an anti-nuclear and anti-U.S. sentiment is a result of the U.S. imperialists' colonial policy for turning South Korea into a military base.

[Commentator Yun] Students have shouted anti-nuclear slogans more frequently and strongly. This phenomenon is closely related to the U.S. maneuvers to turn the Korean peninsula into a nuclear battle site. As you know, the U.S. imperialists' maneuvers for a nuclear war have become more unscrupulous with each passing day. The United States has regarded Northeast Asia, and South Korea in particular, as the most important strategic site in the implementation of their global nuclear strategy. This is because of the fact that there are, in this region, Japan, which is not only a U.S. trade partner, but also has huge military and economic strength, and the Chon Tu-hwan pro-U.S. treacherous regime which does not hesitate to hand its military troops and even sovereignty over to the United States, if it demands.

[Female announcer] In addition, geopolitically, this region is an important location in the (?implementation) of the U.S. nuclear war strategy. In other words, this region is located in a way directly linking to the Asian Continent and is a favorable region for attacking such countries as the North and the Soviet Union.

[Kim] That's right. This is why the Reagan regime has regarded Northeast Asia as a key region in the implementation of its nuclear strategy, and South Korea as the most important key area in this region. This is why the United States had not only extremely aggravated tension under the excuse of the non-existent threat of southward invasion from the North, but has also turned South Korea into one of the largest nuclear bases of the United States in the world.

[Yun] Coping with all cases of nuclear war, such as simultaneous multiple retaliation strategy and limited nuclear war strategy, the United States has already deployed some 1,000 nuclear weapons, and has staged in earnest a nuclear war exercise in South Korea, designating the Korean peninsula as an operational area for a nuclear war. The annual "Team Spirit" South Korea-U.S. joint military exercise in South Korea is also part of the U.S. nuclear war strategy.

[Kim] All facts vividly show that the Reagan regime is trying, through the Chon Tu-hwan ring, to turn South Korea and the Korean peninsula into a nuclear war battle site. This is indeed a dreadful and dangerous situation for our nation.

[Male Announcer] If a nuclear war broke out on the Korean peninsula, how would the land of our fatherland fare? Mindful of the awful destructive power of nuclear weapons, we can easily imagine the disaster which our nation would suffer in the event of a nuclear war.

As is known to the world, the destructive power of today's nuclear weapons is beyond comparison with that of the nuclear weapons dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki, Japan. Supposing that a hydrogen bomb were dropped on Seoul, what would become of the city? We cannot but feel dreadful even at the thought of this. Supposing that a 1,000-ton hydrogen bomb were dropped on Seoul, all buildings in the city within a radius of 8.7 km would be completely destroyed, not to mention the people of the city.

[Yun] In that case, everything in an area within a radius of 8.8 km would be reduced to ashes. Besides this, people in Uijongbu, Anyang, Inchon, Kompo, and Songnam, within an area having a radius of 25 km from the center of the bomb explosion, would also be severely damaged. In addition, the so-called ashes of death created from the explosion of the bomb would cover an area with radius of 100 km from the center of the explosion, including such areas as Suwon, Chonan, and Wonju.

[Kim] Yes. It will contaminate not only people but also all living things, killing them or making them sick, and making the land barren.

[Female announcer] As you have just heard, even one nuclear bomb will kill the 10 million people in Seoul, reducing Seoul to complete ruin. What would be the extent of the damage if the 1,000 nuclear weapons deployed in South Korea were to explode?

[Kim] It would surpass one's imagination. The United States and the Chon Tu-hwan ring babble about striking the heart of the enemy and rave as if their preemptive nuclear strike against the North would cause damage to the northern region only. In modern warfare, in which we can hardly distinguish the front from the rear, and in which lethal arms and military equipment are [words indistinct], it would be foolish and deceptive to rave that the damage would be limited to one side only. It is very doubtful that the launching of nuclear arms in South Korea would limit the war to South Korea only. If a nuclear war were to break out on the Korean peninsula, it would inevitably spread into a world war.

[Female announcer] If the United States were to launch a preemptive nuclear strike, from its base in South Korea, against the North or the far eastern area of the Soviet Union, it would be foolish to assume that this would not invite retaliation.

[Male announcer] You mean that a nuclear strike would certainly be followed by a retaliatory attack.

[Female announcer] South Korea, where the nuclear weapons would be launched, would be the target of a nuclear retaliatory strike before any other place. South Korea would become a site of a U.S. nuclear war. If all the major cities, including Taegu, Pusan, Kwangju, Chinhae, Kunsan, and Kori, as well as Seoul, and the areas where the nuclear weapons are deployed were to become the object of a retaliatory nuclear strike, and all the numerous nuclear weapons were to be exploded, there is no doubt that South Korea and the Korean peninsula would become a barren land.

[Kim] Of course. The nation would perish and the entire Korean peninsula would be turned to ashes. The U.S. imperialists are raving that they are protecting South Korea with the so-called nuclear umbrella. This should be taken as a deceptive means by which the United States is scheming to realize its (?vicious rule) and ambition for world domination using South Korea and the Korean peninsula as a sacrifice. I think that there is an increasing antinuclear and anti-war movement among the students and the people because they are aware of this fact.

[Yun] The Chon TU-hwan ring is engaged in a propaganda campaign, stating that the antinuclear and anti-U.S. slogans sounding on campuses are the same in nature as the North's strategy of reunification through communizing the South. This is really preposterous. We should compare this to a thief feeling a cramp in his foot and to the desperate wriggling of those who received a wound in their vital parts.

[Kim] It is quite just that the students and the patriotic masses should cry out with antinuclear and anti-U.S. slogans. As long as South Korea remains a U.S. nuclear base, there is no guarantee that South Korea will not become a sacrifice for the nuclear war strategy of the United States. Therefore, we should oppose nuclear wars of whatever cause against the North or any other socialist country.

[Female announcer] That is right. In any case, it would be our nation that would be sacrificed because of a nuclear war, and it would be quite natural that South Korea, a U.S. nuclear base, would receive the greatest damage. We should be aware once again that the Reagan administration, which is clinging to a nuclear strategy, and the Chon Tu-hwan ring, which is following it, are the ringleaders that are bringing dark clouds of war over the Korean peninsula and leading our nation to a nuclear holocaust, and we should wage a more vigorous antinuclear, antiwar, anti-U.S., and antifascist struggle.

Roundtable Talk on Struggle

SK101430 (Clandestine) Voice of the RPR in Korean to South Korea 1000 GMT
8 Jun 85

[Roundtable talk among two unidentified announcers--one male and one female--and station commentator Yun Chong-won, entitled "The Anti-U.S. Struggle for Independence Is an Urgent Task of the RPT," from the Program "Today's Feature"]

[Text] [Unidentified male announcer] How are you? As we know, the anti-U.S. sentiment of our masses is growing with each passing day and, as a result, various forms of anti-U.S. struggle are being waged throughout the country. I thank that the anti-U.S. struggle for independence is an urgent task of our RPR, struggling for the interests of the masses of all strata, including workers and peasants. Therefore, in this hour I would like to discuss this problem. I think that it is too natural that the anti-U.S. struggle for independence has been adopted as our party's revolutionary task.

[Commentator Yun Chong-won] As we know, the achievement of independence, democracy, and reunification are a lofty mission and duty of our RPR, struggling for workers and peasants. In other words, our party's mission and duty are to liquidate the U.S. imperialists' colonial rule in this land, to realize national sovereignty and democracy, and to achieve the independent reunification of the country. This historic cause can be achieved only through the anti-U.S. struggle for national salvation to drive the U.S. imperialist aggression forces out of this land and to achieve national liberation.

[Unidentified female announcer] You are right. As long as the U.S. imperialist aggressors occupy this land, we cannot achieve independent development of the country, democratization of the society, and national reunification. In this sense, we can say that today's anti-U.S. struggle for independence is the most urgent task among all mass movements. What do you think about this?

[Yun] As today's reality clearly shows, South Korea is a complete colony of the United States. There is no independence nor sovereignty in this land. Of course, there are the names of a country called the Republic of Korea, the president, and the National Assembly in this land. However, these are not only a camouflage to conceal the U.S. colonial rule, but are also a tool to maintain the U.S. policy of aggression. Therefore, the real ruler of this land is the United States. The United States controls everything in this land. The U.S. aggressors not only grasp all political rights of the administrative, judicial, and legislative branches but also all economic rights, including finance, budget, and economic development plans in South Korea. They also firmly control the prerogative of the supreme command of the South Korean Army. The United States is not the liberator of our nation; it is the occupier of our land. It is not a supporter, but a plunderer. It is the inveterate enemy of our nation. These facts have been vividly shown by the history of national suffering during the past 40 years.

[Male announcer] Our nation has lived under enslavement, being deprived of primary democratic rights, freedom, and the right to survival.

[Yun] That's right. Mindful of this status, we cannot repress our resentment. To escape today's miserable situation, our masses should more vigorously wage the anti-U.S. struggle for independence to liquidate the U.S. occupation of South Korea and its colonial fascist rule. Only the anti-U.S. struggle for independence can save our masses, who are suffering under enslavement, and make it possible to achieve the independence and sovereignty of the country.

[Female announcer] I think that the reason why the anti-U.S. struggle for independence is an urgent task of our party is that this struggle is the prerequisite to ending national division. What do you think about this?

[Yun] Reunifying the country, which is the long-cherished desire of the nation, is an important task of our party. This is why our party, since the first day of its founding, has constantly struggled for the independent reunification of the country. As we know well, it is because of the U.S. aggressors that our nation, which had existed as the same land and as one nation, has existed divided into two for 40 long years. Therefore, if the U.S. imperialist aggression forces did not occupy this land, there would be no work of national division for our nation, which is a single nation, and our nation would lead a peaceful and happy existence. In a nutshell, it is because of the U.S. aggressors that our nation has been divided into North and South for 40 years.

Today, the U.S. imperialists are still trying to perpetuate the national division of our nation through their two Koreas policy. They have turned this land into a forward base for the implementation of their Asian strategy and have accelerated war preparations for a northward invasion more frantically than ever before.

Last year, traitor Chon Tu-hwan made a junket to Japan despite strong condemnation at home and abroad. This junket, and his junket to the United States last April, were made in accordance with the U.S. imperialists' scenario to rapidly form a tripartite alliance among the United States, Japan, and South Korea.

Such being the situation, it is too self-evident that without the anti-U.S. struggle for independence, we cannot achieve national reunification, the long-cherished desire of our nation, and peace on the Korean peninsula.

[Male announcer] I think that as long as the U.S. imperialists continue their occupation of South Korea and their colonial rule there, our national division cannot be liquidated. Therefore, our country can be reunified only when the U.S. occupation of South Korea--which is the source of national division and the main obstacle to national reunification--and its colonial rule are liquidated. I think that, in light of the recently increasing anti-U.S. sentiment among our masses, and the trend of the times, the task of our RPR's anti-U.S. struggle for independence is too just and righteous. What do you think of this?

[Yun] You are right. Today, our masses are not yesterday's masses who failed to awake from the pro-U.S. flunkeyist dream. They have been awakened from it, and are now vigorously waging the sacred anti-U.S. struggle for national salvation.

With the Kwangju uprising as an occasion, our masses have constantly waged various forms of the vigorous anti-U.S. struggle with various anti-U.S. slogans by burning the cursed American Cultural Center in Pusan, attacking the American Cultural Center in Taegu, and burning the U.S. flag in Chunchon. Our masses' anti-U.S. struggle has been further organized and systematized with each passing day.

In addition, the flames of anti-U.S., antiwar, and antinuclear movements against the U.S. imperialists' maneuvers for aggression and war and for peace and sovereignty are more strongly flaring up throughout the world.

[Female announcer] Our RPR, responding to our masses' anti-U.S. struggle and the trend of the times, has vigorously struggled together with the patriotic masses from all strata, breaking through the rugged road of the anti-U.S. national salvation struggle.

[Yun] Yes, this is why our masses of all strata are now turning out in the sacred anti-U.S. struggle, following and trusting our RPR.

[Male announcer] Our party will more strongly struggle against the U.S. imperialists, treasuring the trust, support, and encouragement of the masses of all strata. To this end, our party should make every effort to imbue the party ranks with Kimilsongism. This is very important.

[Yun] Imbuing the party ranks with Kimilsongism is an important guarantee for performing the party's mission by enhancing its combat capability and leading role. Therefore, members of the RPR should more vigorously struggle to imbue the entire party with Kimilsongism. What is more important in this is that RPR organizations should more firmly arm party members with the immortal Chuche idea so that they can become genuine core elements of Kimilsongism. By so doing, party members can properly organize and lead the patriotic masses of all strata for the anti-U.S. struggle for independence. At the same time, our party should pay deep interest to forming a pannational anti-U.S. united front for national salvation and to organizing and mobilizing all people into an anti-U.S. resistance.

[Female announcer] I also think that it is important to simultaneously wage the anti-U.S. struggle for national and the antifascist struggle for democracy.

[Yun] That's right. As you know, the antifascist struggle for democracy is the struggle against the fascist dictatorial rule by Chon Tu-hwan, who is a culprit of the U.S. imperialists' colonial rule. Therefore, when we more strongly wage the antifascist struggle against Chon Tu-hwan and for democracy, the anti-U.S. struggle for independence can be further accelerated.

It is no secret that the United States has perpetrated its colonial rule in this land through such a traitor as Chon Tu-hwan, (Helel Olson), a U.S. reporter, disclosed that the United States had fostered a dog in South Korea and unleashed the dog to fascist rule.

Therefore, our masses should more gallantly wage the antifascist struggle for democracy to overthrow the military fascist rule of Chon Tu-hwan, the dog fostered by the United States. Such antifascist struggle for democracy will constitute a severe blow to the U.S. colonial rule in this land and will serve to further step up the anti-U.S. struggle for independence. This is why our party has more strongly waged the antifascist struggle for democracy together with the masses of all strata and has sublimated and developed this struggle to and around the anti-U.S. struggle for national salvation.

[Male announcer] You are right. Our RPR should more gallantly wage the anti-U.S. struggle for national salvation and the antifascist struggle for democracy together with the broad masses of all strata to build an independent and democratic new society devoid of foreign forces and fascism in this land. Thank you.

Comment on Handling of Sit-in

SK260931 Pyongyang KCNA in English 0903 GMT 26 May 85

[Text] Pyongyang, 26 May (KCNA)--Papers here today lash at the U.S. imperialists and the South Korean puppet clique who revealed their intention to crack down upon the students occupying the "U.S. Information Service," evading their responsibilities for armed repression of the Kwangju popular uprising.

In a commentary captioned "Ill-boding Behind-the-Scene Intrigues" NODONG SINMUN warns that, should they venture an armed crackdown on the "USIS" occupiers, it would add fuel to the students' struggle and end themselves up in a more hopeless tangle.

The author of the commentary says:

The political councillor of the U.S. Embassy, in his remarks on the Kwangju incident on May 24, said it was true that the United States had approved the mobilization of the martial law army, but it was not to blame because the army was commanded by South Korean generals, while the South Korean puppets are trying to lay the blame at the U.S. door, saying that the troops were called out "on its instructions."

It is a big mistake, if they think that they can evade their share of responsibility by such subterfuge.

The South Korean puppets are now framing plots behind the scene through sleepless nights, trying to lull the incident by nonsensical talk.

It is known that the suburbs of Seoul are now a theatre of the exercises of the notorious paratroopers who had been the slayers in the Kwangju bloodbath. Even hallucinogenic drug is administered to them as when they were driven into man-hunting in Kwangju.

The ill-boding moves of the puppets reminding us of the eve of the Kwangju massacre is a tell-tale sign of their schemings to stage the second Kwangju bloodbath.

And there is ground to believe that the dark shadow of the United States is moving behind them.

There is only one way out for the United States and the South Korean authorities to put the situation under control. It is to satisfy the demand of the students.

The United States and the South Korean authorities should act with discretion, deeply mindful that the situation would develop favorably or be aggravated in the future, depending on how they deal with the incident of the occupation of the "USIS" building.

Anti-U.S., Antigovernment Rally

SK021000 Pyongyang KCNA in English 0852 GMT 2 Jun 85

[Text] Pyongyang, 2 Jun (KCNA)--A large number of students in Seoul and local areas held demonstrations again on May 29, according to the South Korean paper TONG-A ILBO.

More than 500 students of over 10 colleges and universities in Seoul scattered anti-U.S., anti-"government" printed material near the Young Men's Christian Association and from the roof of Changan building in Chongro street and one other place, chanting in high spirit slogans denouncing the U.S. imperialists and their stooges for their bloodbath in Kwangju.

Many other students also held a demonstration that day in front of the Pagoda Park, shouting slogans.

The Alliance of the Youth Movement for Democracy, the "National Federation of Students" and three other organizations of South Korea planned to hold a national meeting on the Kwangju incident that day. And more than 500 students of Seoul University gathered at the campus square and held a memorial service for the victims of the Kwangju incident and Kim Tae-hun, a student who committed suicide as an expression of protest to the fascist hooligans.

A large number of 6 local colleges and universities also held demonstrations, demanding a probe into the truth of the Kwangju incident and others and shouting slogans in support of the occupation of the "U.S. Information Service" building, reported the paper.

That day the Chon Tu-hwan fascist clique seized more than 1,000 pieces of printed material and walked off 139 students to the police.

Prison Sentences Demanded

SK020940 Pyongyang KCNA in English 0842 GMT 2 Jun 85

[Text] Pyongyang, 2 Jun (KCNA)--The South Korean fascist clique staged a trial at the southern branch of the puppet Seoul District Criminal Court on May 31 and demanded prison terms of three years for three students including So Chong-ku of Chungang University who had fought against the "National Assembly elections", according to a radio report from Seoul.

Early in February the students poured ammonia water on the "Democratic Justice Party" candidate who was making a deceptive speech full of lies and deception for rigging his return at a joint campaign rally for puppet National Assembly "elections."

Upset by this, the military hooligans arrested and persecuted them before demanding prison terms for them by invoking such fascist laws as the "law of the National Assembly elections."

Students Fight Against Repression

SK020937 Pyongyang KCNA in English 0839 GMT 2 Jun 85

[Text] Pyongyang, 2 Jun (KCNA)--The students who are detained in the puppet police stations after their occupation of the "U.S. Information Service" in Seoul are fighting against repression by the fascist clique, according to a radio report from Seoul.

Four students detained in the puppet Seoul Central District Police Station and other students kept in custody in different police stations are fasting in protest against the fascist clique's repression, insisting on the justice of their occupation of the "U.S. Information Service".

Meanwhile, thirty-seven students already sentenced to custody through fascist "summary trials" on charges of involvement in the same incident are also resolutely protesting against suppression.

Students Demand Formal Trial

SK041511 Pyongyang in English 1501 GMT 4 Jun 85

[Text] Pyongyang, 4 Jun (KCNA)--Forty-three students including Yi Hyon-chong of Seoul University who had been detained on charges of their participation in the occupation of the "United States Information Service" building in Seoul declared on June 3 that they could not submit themselves to the unreasonable detention by the fascist clique and demanded a formal trial to launch a court struggle, according to a radio report from Seoul.

In a written protest submitted to the fascist clique through a 17-member group of defense counsels, the students expressed indignation at the fact that they were sentenced to detention on charges of "rumor mongering" and unanimously asserted that the charges were baseless.

Public Groups 'Hit' Suppression

SK050421 Pyongyang KCNA in English 0346 GMT 5 Jun 85

[Text] Pyongyang, 5 Jun (KCNA)--The Central Committee of the League of Socialist Working Youth of Korea and the Korean Students Committee made public a joint statement on June 4, denouncing the Chon Tu-hwan puppet clique for hastening to harshly penalize 68 patriotic students involved in the occupation of the "U.S. Information Service" building in Seoul.

The statement says:

The South Korean students occupied the "U.S. Information Service" building in Seoul, urged the United States to make an open apology for its backstage manipulation of the Kwangju massacre and stop its support to the present dictatorial "regime" and demanded the resignation of the Chon Tu-hwan group. This was entirely legitimate and just. Their struggle can never be a crime, much less an object of suppression.

It stresses:

The Chon Tu-hwan group must immediately stop its repression of students, unconditionally set free the detained students and step down without delay.

The United States must admit its responsibility for the Kwangju massacre, apologize to the Korean nation and withdraw its support to the present fascist dictatorship of South Korea and its interference, as demanded by the South Korean students.

[Dialogue between Madame Yun Chong-won and Ko Hui-chol, entitled "What Did the Incident of Occupying the American Cultural Center Show?", from the program "Today's Feature"]

[Text] [Ko Hui-chol] How are you, listeners? On 26 May, the patriotic students, who occupied the American Cultural Center and staged a strong struggle through sit-in for 4 consecutive days left the cultural center with high pride in having been victors. In this hour, I will discuss this matter with Madame Yun of this station. How are you?

[Yun Chong-won] How are you?

[Ko] Patriotic students seized the American Cultural Center and staged a struggle through sit-in. Will you, first of all, briefly talk about the issues in their struggle?

[Yun] Some 70 patriotic students from Seoul National University, Korea University, Yonsei University, Songgyungwan University, and Sogang University took part in the recent struggle through sit-in at the American Cultural Center. Through their struggle, which lasted for 4 consecutive days, the patriotic students demanded that the United States openly apologize for its role in the Kwangju massacre, stop assistance to the military dictator, and call off all economic measures not beneficial to South Korea, and that the military dictatorship be overthrown. Also, they branded and denounced U.S.-South Korean relations as a shameful relationship between master and servants. They fought vigorously, demanding a meeting with the U.S. ambassador to South Korea to ask the United States to take responsibility for the Kwangju incident.

When they withdrew from the American Cultural Center on 26 May, they left it with pride in being victors, singing songs and chanting anti-U.S. and antigovernment slogans while holding fast to their firm conviction and resolve for struggle.

[Ko] In view of the entire course of the struggle of occupying the American Cultural Center and staging a sit-in, I think that the university students fought very well. Amid the Chon Tu-hwan ring's water-tight suppressive cordons, they unyieldingly fought well by using various forms and methods, such as struggle through a fast, shouting anti-U.S. and antigovernment slogans. In view of the entire course of the recent struggle through sit-in, I think that the struggle indicates many things to our people. What do you think of this?

[Yun] The incident of seizing the American Cultural Center shows many things to us. The incident, first of all, powerfully demonstrated to the whole world how strong the pent-up resentment against U.S. colonial rule harbored by our people is and how strongly they are resolved to restore sovereignty which has been trampled underfoot. In particular, it showed our people's firm will to repay a thousand times the pent-up resentment against the U.S. aggressors, the ringleader of the Kwangju massacre, and for the price of blood.

This is shown by the fighting slogans put forth by the students. They fought bravely, shouting such anti-U.S. and antigovernment slogans as "The United States must openly apologize for the role in the Kwangju massacre," "The United States must stop assistance to the military dictatorship," "Let us overthrow the military dictatorship," "U.S.-South Korean relations are a shameful and unacceptable relationship of master and servants," and "Call off all economic measures unfavorable to the people." This is an eruption of indignation against the U.S. colonial rule, and shows how strongly our people desire to restore national sovereignty. The students who seized the American Cultural Center fought sacrificingly and vigorously.

[Ko] Through their struggle, I think, the students demonstrated that our people do not want the life of slaves of the United States and indicted the U.S. aggressors' crime of having ruthlessly trampled underfoot and having manipulated and commanded the atrocity of the Kwangju massacre behind the scenes.

[Yun] For that reason, youths and students in Seoul and other parts of the country staged struggles of solidarity in support of the struggle of occupying the American Cultural Center by students, and the patriotic masses of all walks of life actively supported and encouraged the struggle.

To give an example, on 24 May alone, some 8,000 students from 18 universities waged strong demonstrations, shouting such slogans as "We actively support the sit-in at the American Cultural Center." This shows that the students and our people commonly feel that the ringleader of the Kwangju massacre is the United States, and show how strong the aspirations for independence that they cherish are.

[Ko] Another meaning of the sit-in struggle at the U.S. Cultural Center which was shown to our people was that the incident revealed without reservation the aggressive and murderous nature of the United States and the treacherous nature of the Chon Tu-hwan ring.

[Yun] I agree. As shown in the process of the sit-in struggle, the U.S. Embassy authorities in South Korea pretended to reluctantly admit under the pressure of the students their responsibility for the barbarous Kwangju massacre which they perpetrated, albeit behind the scenes, and engaged all forms of cunning and wicked maneuvers.

For instance, the counselor in charge of political affairs of the U.S. Embassy attempted to extricate U.S. officials from responsibility when they met the students, saying that although it is true that the United States approved the dispatch of the martial law troops, it is not responsible because the man responsible for the command of the troops was a South Korean. Walker, U.S. ambassador to South Korea, also defended U.S. officials in the same way.

In an attempt to temper to a certain degree the accusation of the massacre they perpetrated in Kwangju, they visited opposition leaders, including Mr Kim Tae-chung and Kim Yong-sam, babbling about the struggle of the students, begging for assistance when they met key officials of the NKDP.

The fact that the Kwangju incident happened under U.S. manipulation is now well exposed to the world. Therefore, it is really intolerable for them to attempt to shift the blame onto their cat's paw.

[Ko] It is really a mean attempt. Another thing we ought to mention in connection with the struggle of occupying the U.S. Cultural Center is the thorough revelation of the Chon Tu-hwan ring's nature as a colonial puppet and traitor.

[Yun] Yes, that is right. We ought not to bypass this fact. The Chon Tu-hwan ring unhesitatingly committed the traitorous act of defiling, threatening, blackmailing, arresting, and detaining the patriotic students who demanded to know the U.S. responsibility for the Kwangju massacre and demanded that it openly apologize for it.

When the masses' struggle took place, Prime Minister No Sin-yong, speaking at the National Assembly, expressed regret to the U.S. side for the student occupation of the U.S. Cultural Center and said that a resolute will would be shown to find a solution to the problem.

On 24 May, the spokesman for the DJP, Chon Tu-hwan's private political party, used abusive words about the struggle, saying that it was a violent, rash, and senseless act.

The Chon Tu-hwan ring is now desperate to investigate and suppress those involved in the General Federation of the Student Unions and the Sammin Struggle Committee, arresting and referring to summary trial the students who ended the sit-in, and saying that it is conducting an investigation into their background.

Facts such as those above have well revealed to the world that the Chon Tu-hwan ring is a murderous ring and a filthy and devilish colonial stooge without parallel in the world, not hesitating to kill fellow countrymen for the sake of its master.

[Ko] Summing up what we have discussed so far, we can say that the struggle of occupying the U.S. Cultural Center has dealt a heavy blow to the system of the U.S. imperialist colonial rule and has deepened the Chon Tu-hwan ring's [word indistinct] as a faithful dog for the United States.

[Yun] That is right. Through the struggle of occupying the U.S. Cultural Center, our students have shown that if the masses unite and wage a daring anti-U.S. and anti-Chon Tu-hwan ring struggle, they will certainly realize their objective. In other words, the sit-in struggle can be said to be a turning point in our masses' anti-U.S. struggle for independence, that is, an impetus to deepen and develop the anti-U.S. struggle for independence to a new higher state. Therefore, we think that our masses cannot win success by begging in the struggle against the cunning and wicked U.S. imperialists but that they should continue their struggle to the end, cornering them into a scrape and getting them stuck. That is the only way to bring the U.S. rascals to their knees.

[Ko] Our people should firmly unite themselves under the banner of the anti-U.S. struggle for independence and wage a more stubborn and vigorous anti-U.S. and anti-Chon Tu-hwan struggle.

Walker's Remarks Denounced

SK010611 (Clandestine) Voice of the RPR in Korean to South Korea 1000 GMT
29 May 85

[Talk from the program "Today's Feature"]

[Text] The masses across the country are now expressing their indignation in connection with Walker's violent outburst on 26 May. You will hear the voices of resentment and indignation by the masses of all strata.

The masses of all strata are denouncing the remarks of Walker, U.S. ambassador to South Korea, at his press conference as a wicked and provocative outburst against the South Korean people.

A resident in Chung-ku, Seoul, said that the students' struggle of occupying the U.S. Cultural Center and demanding the [word indistinct] and apology of the United States for the Kwangju massacre was really a patriotic act. He said that although Walker wears a man's suit with a diplomatic status, he (?is), in fact, a gangster and a hooligan. Once he described our people calling for independence, democracy, and reunification as villains and raved that they should be caught and killed, and now he made an infuriating violent remark saying that they have nothing to apologize for the Kwangju incident and that the tragedy of Kwangju in which thousands of Kwangju residents were brutally massacred helped bring about stability. Walker is a murderer. What would a man who does not hesitate to make such violent outbursts not do? While saying so, he said that Walker is unwelcome, to put it in diplomatic terms, however, if we express our people's true feelings, he is a man who embodies the aggressive nature of the United States and should be banished right away.

Professor Kim of (?Seoul National University) denounced Walker for committing an act of treachery against the South Korean people when he, who had begged for and said that he would answer the students occupying the U.S. Cultural Center when they end the sit-in, said, at the interview, that they have nothing to clarify or apologize for. He said: The United States clearly revealed its wicked and cunning nature through this sit-in struggle. Moreover, it is truly intolerable that he made a violent outburst by saying that the Kwnangju massacre in which thousands of our people were brutally murdered was a good job. Walker should specifically clarify, as a behind-the-scenes force of the United States involved in the Kwangju incident, how directives were given to the murderers. He should apologize for the violent outburst he made. Our people will certainly receive the U.S. apology in connection with the Kwangju incident.

A resident in Kwangju, indignant to Walker's outburst, said: We are demanding the clarification of the truth of the Kwangju massacre not because we do not know that the Kwangju massacre was committed by the Chon Tu-hwan military ring under the U.S. instruction. We are doing this because the United States has not said a word of apology for these 5 years since the Kwangju incident, continuously ruling this land, and because it is obstructing our people's struggle for democratization, supporting the murderer Chon Tu-hwan's military ring.

Walker said that the incident in which our fathers, mothers, brothers, wives, and sons and daughters were brutally massacred in Kwangju was a development that helped to bring about stability. This reveals once again the scheme that they will kill our people at random in the future as well. Walker is a devil. The United States should withdraw immediately from this land.

[Station commentary]

[Text] How are you, everyone? This is the hour for station commentary. In this hour, I will speak about the furious anti-U.S. and antigovernment struggle which the patriotic students are staying to unveil the truth of the Kwangju incident.

As has already been reported, students in Seoul on 29 May again staged anti-U.S. and antigovernment struggles. That day at a place close to the American Cultural Center in Seoul, patriotic students staged vigorous demonstrations, demanding the unveiling of the truth of the Kwangju massacre which the Chon Tu-hwan ring committed under U.S. manipulation.

Staging demonstrations, the students scattered numerous leaflets from a building near the American Cultural Center demanding a probe into the Kwangju incident. This is a continuation of the struggle in which the American Cultural Center was seized and in which sit-ins were staged. Thus, it is an entirely just struggle reflecting the unanimous views of our masses demanding the unveiling of the Kwangju massacre.

As you know, the ringleader of the unprecedented Kwangju massacre of compatriots was the United States. It was none other than the U.S. aggressors who turned the special forces placed under the control of the commander of the U.S. forces in South Korea over to traitor Chon Tu-hwan. At the same time, it was none other than the U.S. imperialists who ordered the attack on peaceful residents with iron fists. It is a well-known fact that the United States is the culprit of the Kwangju incident.

This was precisely the reason why some 70 patriotic students from Seoul National University, and Korea, Yonsei, Songgyungwan, and Sogang universities seized the American Cultural Center for 4 days beginning on 23 May amid the support and solidarity of the masses at home and abroad, and staged sit-ins there day and night, strongly demanding that the United States account for the Kwangju massacre and openly apologize for it.

However, the U.S. aggressors now act arrogantly, even if they promised that they would come to dialogue when the students had ended the sit-in. At a press conference on 26 May, Walker, U.S. ambassador to South Korea, disclosed the true color of the aggressor by saying that the Kwangju incident was an entirely domestic affair of South Korea, that the mobilization of the martial law army rather helped bring Kwangju to tranquility, and that the United States has nothing to explain or apologize for concerning the Kwangju incident.

Meanwhile, the Chon Tu-hwan ring is relentlessly suppressing the patriotic students who seized the American Cultural Center and staged sit-ins there demanding that the United States openly apologize for the Kwangju massacre. In all, 68 patriotic students were detained or sent to summary trials on the charge of violating the law on violence, and leaders of the General Student Council of the 30 universities in Seoul and the Committee of Struggle for the Nation, Masses, and Democracy were put under a thorough investigation, and the vice chairman of the General Student Council of Seoul National University was taken to the police station.

It is precisely under this fascist oppression that the patriotic students in Seoul again staged furious anti-U.S. and antigovernment demonstrations at a place near the American Cultural Center, demanding a probe into the Kwangju incident. This is a display of the unyielding will of our patriotic students who will never stop struggling unless the truth of the Kwangju incident is unveiled and unless the United States openly apologizes for the Kwangju incident.

The crimes which the U.S. aggressors and the Chon Tu-hwan ring committed in Kwangju can never be pardoned. The question of making the United States account for the Kwangju massacre and apologize for it is linked with the question of defending the prestige of our nation and achieving independence, democracy, and reunification. This is why our patriotic students are bleeding and struggling unyieldingly. The masses of all strata must express support and solidarity for their just struggle, and must wage a pannational anti-U.S. struggle for national salvation.

FURTHER ON USIS STUDENT OCCUPATION

Suppression of Students Condemned

SK100850 (Clandestine) Voice of the RPR in Korean to South Korea 1000 GMT
7 Jun 85

[Talk by announcer Ko Kui-chol]

[Text] As the people know, remarks made by DJP lawmakers at the National Assembly and the wholesale roundup of the students belonging to the struggle Committee for Democracy, the Nation and the Masses [SCDNM] obviously indicate that the Chon Tu-hwan ring is attempting to punish the students who seized the American Cultural Center and staged a sit-in there, and the members of the SCDNM on charges of violating the National Security Law by branding them as pro-communist elements.

Testifying at the National Assembly on 4 and 6 June, Kim Sok-hui, minister of justice, said that the SCDNM is threatening free democracy and disclosed that the students who are extremely conscious ideologically among the students belonging to the organization are being investigated on suspicion of violating the National Security Law.

Meanwhile, DJP lawmakers babbled that, because the incident of occupying the American Cultural Center under the manipulation of the SCDNM is an act benefiting the enemy, there is no room for sympathizing with it.

These remarks are an insult and challenge to our masses aspiring for independence, democracy, and reunification.

The occupation of the American Cultural Center by university students was a great patriotic and nation-loving event to ask the United States to assume responsibility for directly manipulating and commanding the ruthless murder of thousands of Kwangju citizens and to demand its open apology. In addition, the cadres of the SCDNM, who bravely took the lead in the struggle, are patriotic youths who have fought, speaking for our masses' will for independence, democracy, and reunification.

For this reason, the National Federation of Democratic Students [NFDS] and the SCDNM, its suborganization, cannot but be dangerous forces to the Chon Tu-hwan ring, which blocks independence, democracy and reunification. With the incident of occupying the American Cultural Center as an opportunity, therefore, the Chon Tu-hwan ring is running amok to wipe out the NFDS and the SCDNM, its suborganization, by labeling them as impure organizations.

As has already been reported, Chon Tu-hwan chaired a meeting to discuss ways to minimize the after-effects of the incident of seizing the American Cultural Center at Chongwadae on 27 May, with the presence of the director of the National Security Planning Agency, the chief secretary of Chongwadae, the minister of justice, and the minister of home affairs. At the meeting, they conspired to fabricate the incident of occupying the American Cultural Center as an incident to topple the state perpetrated under the manipulation of the North and, with this as an opportunity, to uproot the student movement and lay a foundation for countering attack by the opposition parties and for taking an initiative in North-South dialogue.

In accordance with the conspiracy, the police began a racket of rounding up the members of the SCDNM and the cadres of other organizations by linking them to the organization. On 4 June, the Noryangjin police, in Seoul, took Song Yun-ik, chairman of the SCDNM of Chungang University who demanded clarification of the truth concerning the Kwangju incident, to the station. The Chongnyangri police perpetrated a fascist tyranny of surprise attacks on the houses of Chang Tae-sok, chairman of the SCDNM of Hanguk University of Foreign Studies; Sung Tong-kun, chairman of the SCDNM of Kyonghui University; and Kim Hye-su, chairman of the SCDNM of Seoul City College, and of taking them to the station. Also, the Chongno police took students of Tongguk University and Songgyungwan University, who waged struggle while scattering handbills entitled: "Why Did We Enter the American Cultural Center?", to the station. Meanwhile, the chairmen of the SCDNM of Yonsei University and Songgyungwan University are being sought by the police.

This roundup commotion, an unprecedently illegal and outrageous act of suppressing students, is arousing unanimous indignation at home and abroad.

The Chon Tu-hwan ring is trying to obliterate the anti-U.S. and antigovernment struggle of students by branding the NFDS and the SCDNM, its suborganization, as pro-communist organizations and by arresting the members of the organizations and cadres of students. However, this is a foolish delusion.

As unanimously demanded by the people, the Chon Tu-hwan ring must stop the bloody racket of rounding up students at once and immediate release all patriotic students who have been arrested.

Student Release Demanded

SK091315 (Clandestine) Voice of the RPR in Korean to South Korea 0300 GMT
8 Jun 85

[Text] Students who staged a sit-in in the American Cultural Center strongly demand that their 25 fellow students who were remanded to the prosecution be released at once, saying that the struggle of occupying the American Cultural Center was not an illegal act.

Chong, a participant in the sit-in in the American Cultural Center, said: The struggle of occupying the American Cultural Center, a sufferer's act of asking for an offender's responsibility, cannot be a [word indistinct]. Furthermore, the Chon Tu-hwan ring called the struggle of students an illegal and violent act. This is an excuse for political retaliation. We destroyed no facilities in the cultural center, took no American as a hostage, and inflicted no violence on Americans. We just staged a 4-day fast and sit-in to ask the United States for its responsibility for manipulating and gifting the command to relentlessly kill thousands of Kwangju citizens and to obtain its open apology, and then voluntarily left the cultural center.

Demanding that his fellow students be released immediately, he said: We will not stand idle, if the Chon Tu-hwan ring dares to punish the 25 fellow students and the cadres of the Struggle Committee for Democracy, the Nation and the Masses by turning away from our demand and by groundlessly branding them as pro-communist elements.

Yi, a participant in the struggle through sit-in in the American Cultural Center, said: Through the sit-in in the American Cultural Center, we keenly felt that the Chon Tu-hwan ring is a group of flunkeyist traitors, who cannot live together beneath the same sky, and a group of lackeys loyal to the United States. While we were asking the United States to apologize for its crime by occupying the American Cultural Center, the Chon Tu-hwan ring expressed regret to the U.S. masters and even threatened our students, saying that it would show a resolute will in resolving the problem.

He pledged to save his fellow students from danger through a vigorous struggle.

Choe, another participant, said: What I keenly felt through the struggle of occupying the American Cultural Center is the crafty nature of the U.S. wretches. In a meeting with us, Walker [as heard] said that the martial law troops were, in truth, thrown into the city during the Kwangju incident, but South Korean generals commanded them. He further said that, if the students stopped the sit in, he would tell them even unknown things. As soon as we left the cultural center, however, Walker clamored that the act of students was regrettable, the Kwangju incident was an internal problem of South Korea, and there was nothing to explain and apologize for because the dispatch of the martial law troops helped restore calmness in Kwangju. How cunning and brazen these remarks are!

Finding it difficult to hold back his indignation, he added: A lesson is an endless fight against the U.S. wretches. As we clarified in the statement issued when we left the cultural center, we will continue to struggle to make clear the truth of the kwangju incident. In case unjust punishment is inflicted on fellow students, a second and a third Kwangju incident will take place.

Reporter's Impression

SK072204 Pyongyang Domestic Service in Korean 0930 GMT 7 Jun 85

[NODONG SINMUN 7 June article: "3 Nights and 4 Days in Seoul"]

[Text] I have been to Seoul as a reporter accompanying the delegation of the DPRK Red Cross Society, which went to the South for the eighth round of the North-South Red Cross talks.

Our trip was a significant one provided by our initiative, prompted by the compatriotic relief measures for the South Korean flood victims. Our delegates joyfully met with the South Korean compatriots and greatly contributed to providing a foundation for vigorously implementing the work of relieving the sufferings of the fellow countrymen who are separated in the North and the South by putting forth a new epochal proposal in the talks.

However, our trip was not all joyful and pleasant. I would like to write about the impressions we had during 3 nights and 4 days in Seoul.

Seoul, where a cold wind blew. What was the impression of Seoul, greeting our delegates? This question was a matter of interest to everyone. However, to our regret, we cannot say that the expression of Seoul was bright. The population in Seoul is not small. However, Seoul looked empty when we arrived there. Of course, there were some people in the bus station, but they were expressionless.

As we met them after a long time, we sent them our greetings, waving our hands. Some people responded to our greetings. However, we witnessed a surprising event. An unidentified man abruptly took a resident who greeted us to the lower part of a hill. Another resident was taken to a side street. We could see such scenes here and there.

Through a foreign news reporter, we learned that the South Korean authorities mobilized policemen, both uniformed and plainclothesmen, as well as intelligence agents, in the streets and drove the people away or confined them in their houses.

As they could not empty all streets, they deployed some residents in streets, selecting them from the population, and even posted gangsters among them. Thus, they hindered the residents from welcoming us, and did violence against those who greeted us in a moment of bewilderment.

Although we wanted to wave our hands to the compatriots whom we missed, to express our emotion as blood relatives, we refrained from doing so because we were afraid that the South Korean residents might suffer disaster.

Those who brought a cold wind to the streets in Seoul instead of the warm emotion of meeting with compatriots might have thought that their operation was successful. However, it was a (?failure).

Drivers in cars and citizens aboard buses recognized our delegates and voluntarily expressed their warm greetings, waving their hands. Many people waved their hands by half opening the doors of their stores. They were not worried about being arrested because they were out of the agents' sight range. We should say that their attitude was true and unpretentious, representing the emotion of the South Korean people toward the fellow countrymen. No one can sever the relations of blood among fellow countrymen in the North and the South.

Our country, where other people live: As we crossed the Military Demarcation Line, we thought that when we went to Seoul, we could see the old palaces, such as Kyongbuk Palace and Changdok Palace, and could go out on the streets of Kwanghwamun and Myongdong. However, this was not possible.

As soon as we entered Seoul, the South side guided us to the Sheraton Hotel, located on a hillside at the end of Songdong District. They took the roads at outer edges where almost no residents walk.

There were some events taking place in Seoul while we stayed there. However, the roads that we used were only the roads we passed through when we entered Seoul. We said: "If we pass through the center of town, we can go straight to the hotel. Why take us along the riverside roads? We don't have much time; let us go through the center of the city." However, the people of the South side did not let us go through the center of Seoul, on the pretext of avoiding traffic congestion.

Because it sounded very strange, we asked a foreign reporter the reason why. He criticized the South side for its conduct, saying: It may be conduct by those who do not want to see you and Seoul residents meet together and become intimate with each other.

After all, though we went to Seoul we could not see the real Seoul. But, we have something to say concerning Seoul: Seoul is on the same land as the North. The people there are our consanguineous compatriots. But, it was difficult for us to have such a feeling.

Everything we saw was unbecoming to Korean people: Western-style architecture; sign-boards covered all over with foreign languages; and customs which are not in the style of our national customs.

Seeming as if they became aware of such thinking by us, the people of the South side, too, asked the comrades from the Chongnyon, who were part of the delegation, what Seoul looked like in comparison with Tokyo. Thus, the comrades from the Chongnyon threw a reproach into their teeth, saying: One might as well emulate what it is worthwhile. There is no need to emulate another while trying to emulate what it is not worthwhile. This incurred laughter for a moment.

A South Korean publication once wrote; South Korea is not my country where I live. But, it is my country where others live.

Seeing Seoul, we thought that such an expression was really right.

Is it an open society? The South Korean people like to talk about opening. But, in South Korea we thought that South Korea is a closed society. We are not saying this because of our displeasure at the fact that we were not let into the center of Seoul. On the latest occasion, they received us as guests. They did not let us contact the basic masses [kibon kunjungdul] in South Korea such as the workers and peasants. This was not all. At our quarters, the real floor managers and even elevator operators had been forced out. They were replaced by experts of anticommunist organizations of South Korea, including the National Security Planning Agency.

One of two guides were assigned to each of our side's delegates, advisory members, entourage members, and reporters. They too were members of the anti-communist organizations who were dressed in costumes as volunteers of Red Cross. There were also those of the South side's people who tipped us off to this. A woman who was said to be a elevator operator was very unskilled in operating an elevator. Waiters who did not know where to place food dishes were frequently seen. A guide who was said to be presently a school teacher did not know the educational system of South Korea.

At luncheons and dinners, and at places we visited, we contacted relatively many people. But, no basic masses like workers and peasants were there, either. Most of them were those who went to the South as land owners before the liberation and who went there after committing crimes against our people during the war.

We thought: How can it be an open society which closes doors so that compatriots could not meet with and share greetings with their own compatriots?

The open society talked about by the South side's people is for foreign aggressive forces; for Kisaeng tourism; and for accepting Western Customs.

[NODONG SINMUN undated article: "The 3 Nights and 4 Days in Seoul"]

[Text] The flood-stricken village that we could not visit:

Taking advantage of the opportunity to visit Seoul to report news of the eighth North-South Red Cross talks, we wanted very much to visit and talk with the South Korean flood victims who received the relief goods we sent from compatriotic love. We had gone to the site of the delivery of the relief goods, but as we were unable to report on the goods being distributed directly to the flood victims, we had had, up to the present, the feeling of being unsatisfied.

Crossing the Military Demarcation Line [MDL] and seeing the cargo unloading site in Taesong-dong, where our relief goods of compatriotic love had been piled in huge quantities, such an impulse on our part grew stronger.

As soon as we arrived in Seoul, we asked the chief delegate of the South's Red Cross to let us meet the flood victims who received our relief goods. The South's chief delegate said that it would not be difficult. However, our request was not realized during our stay in the South.

During the dinner party for us hosted by the mayor of Seoul on the night before our departure, we asked him about the status of the distribution of the relief goods in Seoul. The mayor said that 4,000 tons of rice, 70,000 meters of fabric, and 6,000 tons of cement were received in Seoul and that the rice and fabric were distributed to the flood victims and the cement was used to repair the damaged public facilities. He said that the scene of the distribution of the relief goods was televised and atmosphere was good.

Although the mayor said this, we could not fully believe it. If the relief goods has all been distributed precisely to the flood victims, there should be no reason not to comply with our request to meet them. At any rate, we could not help feeling sorry at being unable to meet and talk face to face with them. Therefore, on our way home, we told the South's chief delegate that we were returning home with his owing us something because he had promised to let us meet the flood victims and failed to keep his word. At this, he pretended to be surprised, asking us whether we had met the flood victims, and saying that we ought to look to the future for such a meeting. We wonder whether we will really be able to meet the flood victims someday. Did he really mean it?

The contents of the Red Cross talks, which lasted for 2 days, have already been reported. The agreement on discussing the five-item agenda as a package, as we had proposed, and the agreement in principle on free visits as a means of relieving the sufferings of the fellow countrymen separated in the North and the South were successful outcomes of the talks.

Yet, the course by which such an encouraging agreement was reached was far from smooth. According to the South's reporters, South Korea's Agency for National Security Planning, Unification Board, and Red Cross had complicated debate among themselves as to whether to agree to the proposal we made in the talks. They said that there was a heated discussion in which the participants said that because our proposal was a just one to everyone, they would face public denunciation if they rejected it, and that they should not accept the proposal whose basic idea was free visits, and so forth.

Perhaps because of this, even the delegates to the talks did not seem to have a consistent view. Only when our side explained again and again that the sufferings of the displaced fellow countrymen could be relieved quickly and satisfactorily by carrying out our proposal did the South say that they agreed in principle to our proposal.

Yet the South's attitude led us to be somewhat suspicious. For instance, they said that they thought it good to discuss the agenda, from the first through the fifth items, as a package, but that each of the five agenda items was independent in nature. While saying that they thought the free visits favorable, they excessively emphasized the complicated nature of such visits.

We were somewhat suspicious, upon seeing the South's attitude at the talks, and wondered: Isn't the South scheming to create an obstacle in the forthcoming talks, equivocating by replying that they agreed in principle? The South's reporters, perhaps because they were as suspicious as we were, said that whether the statement of the delegates of their side that they agreed in principle of our proposal was genuine or to save face before public opinion would be made clear in time.

The prospects for the congratulatory performance:

In the talks, our side proposed that the heads of the Red Cross organizations of the two parties, with an art troupe consisting of some 100 Red Cross members, visit the other party's area and give congratulatory performances in August, when the 40th anniversary of the liberation of the fatherland is to be observed. This was a very encouraging proposal both in terms of promoting the atmosphere of North-South Red Cross talks and bringing about unity of the nation.

The South's reporters and foreign reporters gave absolute support to this proposal on the grounds that the North was trying to open a breakthrough in North-South relations through some remarkable work. Nevertheless, the talks failed to bring about an incisive [tongkwaehan] agreement on this good proposal.

Perhaps because the South could not reject our proposal because of its justness, it did not accede to our proposal, replacing it with a compromise proposal that the hometown visiting group be the fundamental part at the time of the Red Cross presidents' visits and that the art troupe be allowed to participate in it.

In connection with such an attitude of the South, the reporters voiced criticisms, saying that hometown visits would be realized without any problem if free visits were realized and that it is not desirable to mix them together. When we said we thought it good to exchange art troupes, asking them why the South was reluctant to agree, a South Korean reporter said that they might be afraid that red art would brainwash the South Korean people.

This matter is to be discussed at the working-level contact between the two parties on 15 July. We will see how things develop then.

REPORTS REGARDING KWANGJU INCIDENT

VRPR Scores Yun Report

[Station commentary]

[Text] While describing as a groundless rumor the speculation that several thousand people were killed in the Kwangju incident, Yun Song-min, minister of national defense, babbled on 7 June to the National Assembly National Defense Committee that the Kwangju incident itself was a national crisis and that the military played a decisive role in defending the country from this crisis. He further said that the 17 May emergency measure helped restore stability in most areas, including Seoul, and even branded Kwangju citizens as armed rioters as if the Kwangju massacre incident occurred because they committed some wrong.

He babbled like this, while turning black into white at a time when the youths, students, and people of all walks of life are strongly demanding that the U.S. aggressors and the Chon Tu-hwan ring reveal the real state of things concerning the Kwangju incident and make an open apology. This is shameless absurd talk designed to help the United States and the Chon Tu-Hwan ring, the ringleaders of the Kwangju incident, evade responsibility for the incident.

As is well known, the patriotic youths, students, and people of all walks of life staged peaceful demonstrations with empty hands and bare fists in Kwangju 5 years ago, crying for independence, democracy, and reunification. Yun Song-min said that the military played a decisive role during the Kwangju incident. In reality, the military played a decisive role in committing a great human massacre, the brutality of killing innocent Kwangju citizens, young and old, in most brutal manners by tearing up, beating, and burying them alive. It is a well-known fact that according to the U.S. aggressors' bellicose instructions, the devilish Chon Tu-hwan ring killed or wounded several thousand bare-handed and bare-fisted youths, students, and peaceful demonstrators, submerging Kwangju City in a sea of blood by mobilizing three special forces brigades, three divisions, a panzer unit, and numerous other units to Kwangju. This is all the more evident in the eyewitness account written by Stephen Clark, an American citizen. In his eyewitness account, he testified that soldiers dragged away residents by tying their hands, legs, and neck with a wire and burned human corpses like waste paper. This clearly shows how brutally the U.S. aggressors and the Chon Tu-hwan killer-gangster group massacred Kwangju citizens.

Yun Song-min also said that the 17 May act of violence helped restore stability. As a matter of fact, the act of violence restored stability, if it did anything, which helped resolve a crisis facing the Chon Tu-hwan ring's colonial dictatorial regime. However, it brought about great disasters and misfortune, not stability, for our masses who aspire to independence, democracy, and reunification. Moreover, we cannot overlook the fact that in his absurd talk, Yun Song-min branded the Kwangju masses who rose in righteous struggle as armed rioters. This is shameful absurd talk just like the thief turning on the master with a club. If the peaceful demonstrators who cried for independence, democracy, and reunification are to be branded as armed rioters, what can you call Chon Tu-hwan who forced special airborne troops, who took hallucinogens into the massacre brutality and ordered them to kill demonstrators while even saying that it was all right to kill up to 70 percent of the Kwangju citizens and to kill all youths, branding the youths as rioters, and what can you call the martial law troops who showed their brutal character by executing Chon Tu-hwan's order.

It is not coincidence that the world's peace-loving people as well as our people are revealing traitor Chon Tu-hwan's antinational nation-selling criminal act, branding him as the traitor of the nation, the fascist dictator, and the pro-U.S. running dog. Our people will make the U.S. aggressors and the Chon Tu-hwan ring reveal the real state of things concerning the Kwangju incident and make an open apology by all means, and wage a bolder struggle to demand that U.S. forces be withdrawn from South Korea and that the Chon Tu-hwan ring resign.

The Chon Tu-hwan ring must reveal the real state of things concerning the Kwangju incident; make an open apology; immediately release arrested and imprisoned youths, students, and patriotic people of all walks of life; and resign from office without any delay.

Yun Song-min's Testimony

SK091406 (Clandestine) Voice of the RPR in Korean to South Korea 1000 GMT
8 Jun 85

[Talk by Madame Yun]

[Text] On 7 June, Defense Minister Yun Song-min made a report on the Kwangju incident at the Defense Committee of the National Assembly.

Explaining the background and cause of the Kwangju incident, Yun Song-min said that the Kwangju incident took place because students, under the behind-the-scenes manipulation of some political forces, caused disturbances and chaos. This is a challenge to all the people demanding the clarification of the truth of the Kwangju incident, and a sophism aimed at shifting responsibility onto students.

Because the Chon Tu-hwan ring extended the sphere of emergency martial law on 18 May, the Kwangju incident occurred. When the Pak Chong-hui Yusin dictatorship was ruined by the 26 October incident, our people rose up to put an end to the prolonged fascist and dictatorial rule and achieve the democratization of society and the reunification of the country. By Contrast, the Chon Tu-hwan ring extended the sphere under emergency martial law and, through martial law decree No 10, closed all universities and colleges, banned all political activities, and arrested all democratic figures, including Kim Tae-chung.

Enraged by this, youths, students, workers, intellectuals, and the masses of other walks of life waged demonstrations and sit-ins in Seoul, Kwangju, and other parts of the country, demanding the lifting of the martial law and the resignation of the Yusin remnants.

Faced by crises in their rule, the U.S. imperialists and the Chon Tu-hwan ring took Kwangju as an attack target to suppress with bayonets the struggle by using arms, indiscriminately firing rifles and guns at Kwangju citizens, who turned out to a peaceful demonstration, by throwing the 20th Division and thousand of South Korean armed troops into Kwangju.

The Kwangju incident was caused by the Chon Tu-hwan military group's dispatch of the military to Kwangju, under the approval of the United States, and its exercise of armed force.

Yun Song-min said that, even under the situation in which martial law troops were caught and murdered by rioters, even the exercise of the minimal right to self-defense was restrained. This is an act of insulting, deceiving, and mocking the people.

It is, indeed, hard to hold back indignation against the Chon Tu-hwan ring, which, after forcing martial law troops to take stimulants, made them shoot to death with tanks, and open the abdomen of a pregnant woman and take out and throw away a fetus, and indiscriminately bury citizens alive, be they man or women, young or old.

Yun Song-min also said that, at 0100 on 27 May, the quelling operations were carried out to resolve the problems concerning livelihood of the citizens who were suffering from extreme difficulty in living because the continuation of a state of anarchy drained the city of daily necessities and medicines. This is, indeed, preposterous.

The citizens suffered from difficulty in living because of the Chon Tu-hwan murderous rascals who, when the Kwangju incident took place, completely blockaded Kwangju by mobilizing tens of thousands of South Korean armed forces, and stopped the supply of foodstuffs and other daily necessities and the supply of piped water, thereby trying to starve 800,000 Kwangju citizens to death.

Yun Song-min even spat out ridiculous remarks about the possibility of the North's infiltration of armed guerrillas. This shows that they are making desperate efforts to hide the ring's butcherous act.

The Chon Tu-hwan ring also denied the number of dead which it recorded, saying that only 164 persons died in Kwangju, asking why there have been no reports on the dead if there are more, and babbling that the Kwangju City records were erroneous. Because of its consciousness of crime, it seems to have taken leave of its senses.

Under the situation in which all the citizens who took to the streets were regarded as rioters and executed, who could dare to report on dead family members or relatives? There was no one who could report on the dead because anyone who had something to do with the incident was arrested and killed and the family members and relatives of those who turned out to struggle were murdered secretly.

This notwithstanding, the Chon Tu-hwan ring is fabricating the figure, saying that there have been no additional reports. This is an act of betraying [words indistinct] and an insult to them.

The Chon Tu-hwan ring cannot, with any intrigue and fabrication, shirk responsibility for the great antinational crime of having ruthlessly slaughtered thousands of Kwangju citizens.

It is believed that our people should expose and condemn to the whole world the Chon Tu-hwan murderous group's atrocity of murdering fellow countrymen and wage a valiant struggle in firm unity under the anti-U.S. banner of independence and the antifascist banner of democratization, thereby taking revenge against it a hundred and thousand times.

South Defense Minister's Report Condemned

SK090932 Pyongyang KCNA in English 0916 GMT 9 Jun 85

[Text] Pyongyang 9 June (KCNA)--The South Korean puppet home ministry in data submitted to the "National Assembly" on 7 June claimed that a record of 2,620 people killed at the time of the Kwangju incident in May 1980 was attributed to the "wrong annual report" of the Kwangju "City Office" and the death toll was only 290, according to a radio report from Seoul.

In his "report" on the Kwangju incident at the "Defence Committee of the National Assembly" on the same day, the puppet defence minister prattled that the death toll was only 160.

What enrages people all the more is that he praised the martial law troops dispatched into Kwangju as having played a "decisive role in maintaining order" while shamelessly describing as a "false rumour" the story that "the abdomen of a pregnant woman was ripped upon and an embryo was pulled out" in an attempt to deny the hair-raising bestiality.

It is a stark fact well-known to the world that the Chon Tu-hwan human-butchers turned Kwangju into a "scene of bloodbath" with barbarous outrages. killed over 5,000 people in cold blood and wounded more than 15,000 people.

The fascist clique's attempt to distort the historical fact is a shameless drama aimed at concealing the truth of the incident, misleading public opinion and shirking its responsibility for the shocking massacre.

The South Korean students and people will make clear the truth of the Kwangju bloodbath committed by the Chon Tu-hwan gang of nation-butchers and revenge themselves on the gang a thousand gold and settle their bitter grudge against them.

Death Toll termed 'Artifice'

SK091035 Pyongyang KCNA in English 0946 GMT 9 Jun 85

[Text] Pyongyang 9 June (KCNA)--The South Korean puppet home ministry was reported to have presented recently to the National Assembly a paper claiming that 2,627 registered in the annual census report for 1980 as killed in the Kwangju incident are not the number of dead but a "figure showing the growth of population" and the death toll in the Kwangju incident is far less than the figure.

Commenting on this, MINJU CHOSON today says that this is an artifice intended to cover up their crimes, which can be conceived only by such gangsters as the Chon Tu-hwan group accustomed to fraud and swindles, falsehood and deception.

The signed commentary says:

It is a publicly know fact that in 10 days alone, the Chon Tu-hwan military fascist clique massacred more than 5,000 people and wounded over 14,000 in Kwangju, plunging the whole city into a sea of blood.

This notwithstanding, the puppets put the number of dead in the Kwangju massacre at 2,627 in the annual census report for 1980, far less than the actual figure.

Now the puppets are denying even this figure in a sinister attempt to veil their crimes in Kwangju and quell the people's spirit of resistance.

If the puppets think they can conceal their crimes in Kwangju by such a clumsy method, it is a big miscalculation.

The Chon Tu-hwan group must apologize to the nation for their crimes in Kwangju and step down without delay.

[Text] Pyongyang, 3 Jun (KCNA)--A letter of request supporting the DPRK's proposal for North-South parliamentary talks and urging the South Korean National Assembly to respond to it was adopted at the 35th meeting of the executive committee of the trade unions international of chemical, oil and allied workers held in Berlin over May 21-22.

We consider that the proposal for North-South parliamentary talks will undoubtedly contribute to easing the tension on the Korean peninsula and achieving the peaceful reunification of Korea, it notes. It demands the South Korean National Assembly to send a positive reply regarding this proposal to the DPRK Supreme People's Assembly at the earliest date possible.

COMMENT ON SAMMIN STRUGGLE

Members Sentenced to Detention

SK050418 Pyongyang KCNA in English 0355 GMT 5 Jun 85

[Text] Pyongyang, 5 Jun (KCNA)--The Chon Tu-hwan military fascist clique at a trial held at the northern branch of the puppet Seoul District Criminal Court on June 3 sentenced to detention ten members of the Sammin Struggle Committee of the University of Foreign Studies, Kyonghui University and Municipal College in Seoul, according to a radio report from Seoul.

These students staged a demonstration on May 31 in front of Yongdungpo railway station in Seoul, chanting anti-U.S., anti-"government" slogans.

This is part of the fascist clique's vicious suppression to put down the ever-mounting anti-U.S., anti-"government" fighting spirit of students.

KCNA 'Hits' Arrests

SK060020 Pyongyang KCNA in English 2351 GMT 5 Jun 85

[Text] Pyongyang, 6 Jun (KCNA)--The Chon Tu-hwan military fascist junta on June 4 detained the chairmen of the Sammin Struggle Committees of University of Foreign Studies, Kyonghui University, Municipal College and Chungang University in Seoul on charges of involvement in the anti-fascist struggle for democracy, according to South Korean radio reports.

The fascist junta issued a "warrant for search and seizure" of 7 publishing houses and bookstores in Seoul and decided to seize a "Report on the Case of Arson at the 'U.S. Cultural Center' in Pusan" and 12 other kinds of publications and 162 kinds of books including "Song of Community" which were published by the Youth Alliance of Movement for Democracy.

This is part of military fascist junta's vicious suppression to bar the ever-mounting anti-U.S., anti-"government" fight of the South Korean students and people of broad strata.

DAILY ON AGREEMENT AT NORTH-SOUTH RED CROSS TALKS

SK050632 Seoul KYONCHYANG SINMUN in Korean 30 May 85 p 2

[Editorial: "The Exchange of Hometown Visiting Groups and Art Troupes: On the Dramatic Agreement Reached at the Working-Level North-South Red Cross Contact"]

[Text] We were somewhat disappointed when the North and the South, in the course of the 2-day Red Cross talks, made no substantial progress except a simple agreement to hold the next round of talks on 27 August in Pyongyang. However, at the last working-level contact held on the morning of 30 May, the two sides agreed to exchange hometown visiting groups and art troupes as a package. This was sudden and remarkable progress.

Initially, our side proposed that the hometown visiting groups for separated families be exchanged on 15 August, and the North far-fetchedly called for free visits and exchanges of congratulatory art troupes. Subsequently, at the second-day session of the talks, our side put forth a compromise for the exchange of hometown visiting groups and art troupes as a package.

However, the two sides failed to reach a concrete agreement. They simply and unproductively reiterated their assertions, only agreeing to continue to discuss specific matters at the working-level contract. Eventually, immediately before the North Korean Red Cross delegation's departure for Pyongyang on the morning of 30 May, the two sides reached an agreement with the North Korean side's accepting our compromise.

Of course, implementing this agreement on 15 August depends on the working-level contact to be held in mid-July in Panmunjom. However, the agreement upon the exchanges of the two different visiting groups is considered an unprecedented progress. Frankly, we had no great expectations over the Red Cross talks, because the recent North-South economic talks made no progress.

On the other hand, we were still hoping that the talks would be successful, because the Red Cross talks, unlike other kind of talks, supposedly involve no political problems, and are aimed at alleviating the agonies of separated families, based on the spirit of pure humanitarianism.

In this regard, the North Korean side's acceptance of our compromise is construed as one to satisfy the world public opinion calling for respecting our persistent efforts for dialogue and the spirit of humanitarianism. Meanwhile, we must remember that, in the past, some agreements between the North and the South were not implemented because of the preconditions attached to them. In this regard, the concerned authorities, we think, must deal with the negotiations with the North Korean Red Cross with even more prudent and earnest attitude.

It is in no way an easy task to exchange hometown visiting groups and art troupes across the 38th parallel by breaking through the barrier of the 40-year national division. We think that forethought should be given to the sentiment and attitude of the people who will receive the visiting groups and to various other matters, not to speak of technical and clerical problems. All these problems should be fully considered, and even the hidden intention of the North Korean Red Cross should be calculated. By so doing, the authorities must make positive efforts to use the agreement for the exchanges of the two kinds of visiting groups as a great opportunity to improve North-South relations.

DAILIES ON ANNIVERSARY OF 3 JUNE UPRISING IN SOUTH

SK031136 Pyongyang KCNA in English 1010 GMT 3 Jun 85

[Text] Pyongyang 3 Jun (KCNA)--Papers today dedicate articles to the 21st anniversary of the June 3 uprising of the South Korean students and people.

A signed article of NODONG SINMUN says:

The June 3 uprising was an eruption of the irrespressible wrath of the South Korean students and people at the scheming of the Japanese reactionaries and the puppet clique to hastily clinch the treacherous "talks" and a righteous anti-imperialist, anti-fascist national-salvation struggle, which dealt a telling blow to the colonial rule of the U.S. imperialists, drove the puppets into deadly terror and disorder and brought the Japanese reactionaries' re-invasion of South Korea to a temporary halt.

The article further says:

Twenty-one years have passed since then. But none of the desires of the June 3 uprisers have yet been realized. This is because of the aggressive policy of the outside forces and the treacheries of the South Korean puppet clique.

The U.S. imperialists, who occupied South Korea in place of the defeated Japanese imperialists, have converted it into their complete colony, forced the people to colonial slavery and turned that part of Korea into a hell on the earth where slaughter fascism and suppression hold sway.

They have also turned South Korea into a nuclear forward base and powder magazine.

Tailing behind the aggressive policy of the U.S. imperialists, the Japanese reactionaries are obstructing the reunification of the Korean peninsula and craftily maneuvering to restore their old position as the colonial ruler in Korea, strengthening the tieup with the Chon Tu-hwan group.

Aggression of the outside forces is fostered by the pro-American, pro-Japanese flunkeyism of the Chon Tu-hwan group.

The anti-U.S. struggle for independence and the anti-fascist struggle for democracy which are rapidly growing among the South Korean students and people are an expression of their unshakable will and desire to enjoy independence and democracy and achieve prosperity in a reunified land, the article notes, and stresses:

The U.S. imperialists must give up the anachronistic policy of occupation and withdraw from South Korea and the Chon Tu-hwan group stop its treacherous acts and step down from power.

VRPR DENOUNCES DEFENSE MINISTER REMARKS AT ASSEMBLY

SK051122 (Clandestine) Voice of the RPR in Korean to South Korea 1000 GMT
4 Jun 85

[Station commentary]

[Text] At the National Assembly Defense Committee on 3 June, Defense Minister Yun Song-min babbled that the key to victory in war when it breaks out on the Korean peninsula will be the first 3 days after the outbreak and stressed that the efficiency of a surprise enemy attack should be minimized and that he will strengthen combat posture to cope with the initial stage of a war. He also made an absurd remark that when the enemy launches a southward attack, he will strive to gain the initiative in the war.

This is an intolerable violent remark fully exposing the bellicose nature of the Chon Tu-hwan clique. As is known, following the North-South economic talks and Red Cross talks held some time ago, the North put forth a proposal that North-South parliamentary talks be held at an early date.

However, running counter to this the Chon Tu-hwan clique is openly inciting confrontation and war while raving about nonexistent surprise attack from the North and so forth.

Under the command of its U.S. masters, the Chon Tu-hwan clique drastically increased its armed forces recently to cope with a new offensive strategy and reorganized them into offensive-type forces while raving about a strike at the heart of the North and so forth. It also dragged in numerous operational equipment and means from the United States in order to increase mobility in accordance with the new offensive operational plan and is supplying them to various army units. It is drastically reinforcing armored, aviation, and tank units. All this is no secret.

At present, the Chon Tu-hwan clique is deploying forward numerous armed forces in the frontline area close to the Armistice line in accordance with the directive of the U.S.-South Korea Combined Forces Command. It is ceaselessly carrying out military exercises against the North.

Appearing in Pohang City and at marine corps units some time ago, traitor Chon Tu-hwan stressed that there will be no rear area in an emergency and that a posture for speed-battle and a speedy settlement should be assumed.

Today, the Chon Tu-hwan clique is making remarks inciting North-South confrontation and war preparations more frantically than ever before. This is an intolerable challenge to the desire of all compatriots to live peacefully together, reunifying the nation without internal strife. Our people and the peaceloving people of the world unanimously hope that with achievement of the epochal peace proposal for North-South parliamentary talks made by the North at an early date, tensions on the Korean peninsula be relaxed and a new phase will be opened for peace and peaceful reunification.

However, instead of moves to ease tensions, adventurous and provocative military acts aggravating tensions and bellicose utterances prevail in this land. At the very time when contacts to improve North-South relations are taking place after the door of dialogue was opened between the North and the South, Defense Minister Yun Song-min kicked off confrontation and war rackets against the North at the assembly defense committee. We cannot but say that this is a treachery against the partner in dialogue.

When one wants to continue dialogue, one should give away the sword carried in one's bosom and assume a sincere attitude for dialogue. The remarks on relaxation of tensions, dialogue, and so forth made by the Chon Tu-hwan clique at the front are nothing more than a smokescreen aimed at concealing its war maneuvers.

It is clear that the remarks on easing tensions made by those who reinforce attack forces and who are openly inciting war are not true. The Chon Tu-hwan clique's daily-increasing war preparation maneuvers show that it is pursuing a northward war of aggression, not relaxation of tensions and dialogue, running counter to the nation's aspiration, and aggravating tensions, and that it is attempting to ove-come the current crisis of power by repressing the people's spirit of struggle.

The Chon Tu-hwan clique should immediately stop creating antagonism and distrust within the nation as well as reckless confrontation maneuvers only increasing the danger of war.

MINJU CHOSON DENOUNCES SR-71 INFILTRATIONS

SK040430 Pyongyang KCNA in English 0417 GMT 4 Jun 85

[Text] Pyongyang, 4 Jun (KCNA)--Commenting on the unceasing infiltration of high-speed, high-altitude reconnaissance planes "SR-71" into our air above the East and West Sea for aerial espionage by the U.S. imperialists, MINJU CHOSON today says: This is part of their moves for a war against the North and a clear indication of how desperately they are working for the provocation of another war in Korea.

The signed commentary says:

In May alone the U.S. imperialists committed aerial espionage ten times by sending their spy planes into our air above the East and West Sea.

The ever more undisguised war moves of the U.S. imperialists are unpardonable provocations for spoiling the atmosphere of North-South dialogue arranged by our sincere efforts and increasing tensions.

All the facts show that the U.S. imperialists, though loud-mouthed about "peace" and "relaxation of tensions" in Korea, are in actuality seeking only a more acute tension and another war of aggression in Korea.

The rash war maneuvers of the U.S. imperialists will only result in precipitating their own destruction.

They must promptly give up their harebrained scheme of war of aggression against the North and get out of South Korea at the earliest date, taking along their aggression forces and all the destruction weapons.

KIM CHONG-IL RECEIVES MESSAGES FROM RWANDAN FIGURE

SK050357 Pyongyang KCNA in English [GMT not given] 5 Jun 85

[Text] Pyongyang, 5 Jun (KCNA)--Dear Comrade Kim Chong-il received a solidarity message from Habimana Bonaventure, general secretary of the National Revolutionary Movement for Development of Rwanda.

The message dated May 21 says:

The dear leader,

I deem it a great pleasure to offer the most ardent and friendly greeting to you on behalf of the Central Committee of the National Revolutionary Movement for Development of Rwanda and my own.

We heard with keen interest that the 4th session of the 7th Supreme People's Assembly of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea convened on April 9, 1985, advanced a proposal to hold parliamentary talks between the North and the South of Korea to discuss the problem of publishing a joint declaration of non-aggression intended to ease the tensions of the country and improve the North-South relations.

The Central Committee of the National Revolutionary Movement for Development of Rwanda regards this proposal as a means to peacefully solve the Korean question and express full support to the new proposal.

Last year, too, the Democratic People's Republic of Korea proposed to the United States and the South Korean authorities to hold tripartite talks and took measures to send relief goods to the flood victims in South Korea to create an atmosphere of dialogue and relaxation of tensions between the North and the South.

The United States and South Korean authorities, however, have not yet made any affirmative reply to the just proposal for tripartite talks. On the contrary, they are ceaselessly holding various military exercises.

This keeps heightening the tensions on the Korean peninsula.

South Korean authorities must refrain from paying lip-service to peace and talks and agree with the new, concrete proposal for the peaceful reunification of Korea as early as possible.

We sincerely hope the efforts invested by the Democratic People's Republic of Korea will bear successful fruit to contribute to the cause of achieving the independent and peaceful reunification of Korea and consolidating peace on the Korean peninsula and in Northeast Asia.

I take this opportunity to hope the good relations of friendship and cooperation between the National Revolutionary Movement for Development and the Workers' Party of Korea and between the two fraternal countries will further strengthen and develop in the interests of the two peoples.

With highest considerations.

FOREIGN JOURNALISTS SUPPORT KOREAN UNIFICATION

SK061024 Pyongyang KCNA in English 1918 GMT 6 Jun 85

[Text] Pyongyang, 6 Jan (KCNA)--Men of the press and journalists of various countries attending the international short course for journalists that opened in Pyongyang held a joint meeting at Panmunjom and issued a joint declaration supporting the independent and peaceful reunification of Korea.

The joint declaration says:

Through the inspection of Panmunjom we are confirmed that to reunify the country independently and peacefully is the supreme national task of the Korean people whose solution brooks no further delay.

The national division by the foreign forces is going against the historical trend of the era of independence.

We hold that practical measures must be taken to ensure durable peace in the Korean peninsula and create favorable conditions for the independent and peaceful reunification.

We recognize, therefore, that the tripartite talks and North-South parliamentary talks proposed by the DPRK Government should be held as soon as possible.

We are convinced that the three-way talks will enable both the DPRK and the United States, the signatories to the Korean Armistice agreement, to replace the military armistice agreement with a peace agreement and also make the North and the South possible to adopt non-aggression declaration so as to bring about solid peace in the Korean peninsula and open favorable phase for the independent and peaceful reunification of Korea.

We are also sure that many-sided talks and the dissolution of misunderstanding and distrust between North and South will culminate in bringing about the essential guarantee for the reunification.

The Korean reunification represents a weighty question related to peace in Korea as well as to the world peace.

To support the independent and peaceful reunification of Korea is an international duty of peace-loving people, progressive journalists and men of the press the world over.

We will as ever give a positive support to the Korean people in their just cause for the independent and peaceful reunification, wielding the pens of justice.

Korea should be by all means reunified into one.

BRIEFS

FOREIGN SUPPORT FOR REUNIFICATION--Pyongyang, 5 Jun (KCNA)--Romesh Chandra, president of the World Peace Council, in his closing address at the "International Conference on Peace and Liberation in Africa" on May 17 stressed that the struggle for peace is linked inseparably with the Korean people's struggle to achieve the independent and peaceful reunification of Korea and terminate the U.S. intervention and aggressive moves in Asia and the rest of the world. The Soviet weekly magazine NOVOE VREMIA May 31 said the question of national reunification in Korea cropped up because of her division by U.S. imperialism. It denounced the United States for granting a colossal military aid to South Korea now. Noting that the United States has obstinately turned down each constructive proposal advanced by the Democratic People's Republic of Korea for the peaceful and democratic reunification of the country, the magazine stressed: Only when the DPRK's initiatives are realized can a stable peace be guaranteed on the Korean peninsula at an early date and the question of the country's reunification be solved. The 12th Congress of the Free German Youth on May 23 adopted a general declaration, which expressed full support and solidarity with the struggle of the Korean people and all the activities of the League of Socialist Working Youth of Korea for national reunification. CPD DENOUNCES SUPPRESSION OF LAWYER--Pyongyang, 6 Jun (KCNA)--The Council for Promotion of Democracy in South Korea issued a statement on June 1 in denunciation of the fascist clique's outrageous act in disqualifying conscientious person Pak Sei-yong for lawyer, according to a South Korean newspaper. The Chon Tu-hwan military hooligans had prosecuted him because he called at Kim Tae-yong's home in May 1980. On May 28, last, five years later, they held a trial at the puppet supreme court and disqualified him for a lawyer, passing a judgment of "guilty". In its statement, the council for promotion of democracy held that such outrage of the fascist clique is an "infringement upon elementary rights" and strongly held that the "government" must stop suppressing elementary rights and rehabilitate lawyer Pak Sei-yong. EXTENSION OF DEFENSE TAX--Pyongyang, 4 Jun (KCNA)--Commenting on the South Korean puppets' step to extend by five years the period of the collection of the "defense tax" that is to expire at the end of this year, NODONG SINMUN today says: This is a clear indication of their desperate arms buildup. The signed commentary notes: This step was taken at a time when Linsey, commander of the U.S. imperialist aggression forces in South Korea, whipped up the war fever of the stooges, crying over the fictitious "arms buildup" of the North, and the traitor Chon Tu-hwan blew the war trumpet, spreading the rumor of "crisis in 1988". This bespeaks that the Chon Tu-hwan group is absorbed in war preparations against the North under the manipulation of the U.S. imperialists. Having massed huge armed forces in the area along the military demarcation line, according to the newly worked out "offensive strategy" for northward invasion, the puppets are now overheated in stockpiling war materials and securing funds. The extension of the period of "defense tax" collection reveals such adventurous war hysterics. Encouraged by the U.S. imperialists, their master, the Chon Tu-hwan group is taking a step closer to the brink of war. It would be well advised to act with discretion, mindful of the lesson of history that those who are found of fire are destined to be burned in the flames. DJP TO REJECT NKDP DEMANDS ON KWANGJU INCIDENT

SK050652 Seoul TONG-A ILBO in Korean 3 Jun 85 p 2

[From the column "Tidbits"]

[Text] In the monthly morning meeting of the DJP at its headquarters on the morning of 3 June, Secretary General Yi Han-tong made a hawkish remark while analyzing the recent opposition party moves, saying that "there is a hidden intention to scramble for power through an uprising of the masses."

Noting the difficult situation prevailing at present, Seeretary General Yi said: It is doubtful whether the NKDP, which has set off on an enormous political offensive, will carry out parliamentary democracy. We ought to know clearly that they possibly do not care whether society is visited by social upheaval and intend to scramble for power by an uprising of the masses. He stressed that DJP members, including those working in the secretary general's office, should theoretically arm themselves to cope with the situation.

Meanwhile, following the party caucus on 1 June in connection with the remarks of NKDP Assemblyman Yi Chol, the DJP had a meeting to consider measures to theoretically arm party members on the Kwangju incident, and showed the participants three videotapes showing scenes of the Kwangju incident.

According to a participant in the above meeting, Assemblymen Choe Pyong-yol, Hyon Hong-cju, Chong Si-chae, and Kim Yong-chu, after having seen the video tapes, explained in turn the Kwangju incident based on their own analysis, and the assemblymen agreed that the truth of the Kwangju incident was nothing more than that the martial law command made public in 1980, nor was there any distortion of the facts.

The DJP party caucus on 1 June continued until 2145 at night and, according to a report, it decided to reject the NKDP moves to activate the right for investigating state affairs to probe into the truth of the Kwangju incident, and also decided to clarify in natural manner every question that may be posed by the opposition parties at relevant Assembly Committee sessions.

REPORTAGE ON KWANGJU INCIDENT INQUIRY

NKDP To Urge Removal of PM

SK070135 Seoul THE KOREA HERALD in English 7 Jun 85 p 1

[Text] Ruling and opposition parties are sure to heat up their arguments over the Kwangju incident and the occupation of the USIS building in Seoul as the ongoing National Assembly special session is drawing to an end.

To intensify its offensive against the government and the ruling party, the main opposition New Korea Democratic Party plans to introduce to the Assembly today a resolution demanding the resignation of Prime Minister No Sin-yong.

The opposition party also intends to present a motion today calling for the removal of Deputy Prime Minister Sin Pyong-hyon, Minister of National Defense Yu Song-min and Minister of Culture and Information Yi Won-hong.

Both camps are expected to confront each other today at the Assembly Steering Committee over the NKDP's resolution calling for a reinvestigation of the Kwangju incident of May 1980.

As of to afford a cooling-off period, the Assembly did not have panel meetings yesterday because of Memorial Day. Panel sessions will resume today to run until tomorrow.

The Assembly is scheduled to wind up its 30-day special session after two days of plenary sittings Monday and Tuesday.

Political observers say the future political situation appears to be tied to the result of compromise involving the amnesty and restoration of civil rights for Kim Tae-chung and release of "prisoners of conscience."

The DJP and NKDP agreed May 8 to make joint efforts to solve the two issues in the Assembly after lengthy negotiations to open the Assembly.

During their panel activities, which started Monday, the DJP and NKDP bickered sharply over such issues as the occupation of the USIS building, the rewriting of the current Constitution and the Kwangju incident.

In an about-face, the DJP switched to a strong offensive and attacked the NKDP in discussing these sensitive issues during panel sessions.

The ruling party lawmakers walked out of the Home Affairs Committee chamber in connection with an opposition lawmaker's controversial speech.

The NKDP, on the other hand, intensively questioned cabinet ministers on the USIS incident, campus unrest, labor disputes and financial scandals during their committee interpellation.

During a meeting of the Steering Committee Wednesday, the ruling and opposition parties clashed over the NKDP resolution calling for invoking Assembly power to reinvestigate the Kwangju incident.

DJP Resolute To Clarify Incident

SK070133 Seoul THE KOREA HERALD in English 7 Jun 85 p 1

[Text] The government and the ruling Democratic Justice Party plan to make a positive effort to help defuse popular suspicions about the Kwangju incident of 1980.

As part of the effort, the DJP intends to deal resolutely with the opposition New Korea Democratic Party's offensive connected with the incident.

During the remaining part of the current special National Assembly session, the government plans to give "sincere and truthful" replies to lawmakers' questions on the incident, a DJP source said yesterday.

"There is nothing to hide about the Kwangju incident. Neither is there anything to add to previous official accounts of it," said the source.

"However, all sorts of rumors concerning the death toll and other aspects of the incident are rampant. Some people even seem to misunderstand that the government is trying to cover up the truth of it," he said.

The source, who declined to be identified, said that objective data and materials will be presented to substantiate the truth of previous explanations.

He said the DJP objects to the NKDP-proposed invoking of Assembly investigative power to look into the incident because it is aimed at challenging the present political system.

Political observers said the government and the ruling DJP might give a comprehensive account of the incident.

They said that the account might be a compilation of fragmentary explanations previously made by the then Martial Law Command and the government, and the testimonies made by cabinet members during the present Assembly session.

The Kwangju incident has emerged as the hottest issue during the present special Assembly sitting.

Following heated debate on the incident in the past plenary interpellation session, rival parties clashed sharply Wednesday over the wisdom of invoking Assembly investigative power to reinvestigate the incident.

The fireworks began when the Assembly Steering Committee discussed the NKDP-proposed resolution calling for the formation of a select panel to probe the incident.

The ruling DJP insisted that the previous official accounts of the incident were true and correct and that another investigation would not serve the national interests.

The main opposition NKDP, on the other hand, asserted that the people do not believe in the previous official explanations and that another investigation is inevitable.

Meanwhile, the government's earlier explanation puts the number of deaths in the incident at 191.

Citing the Kwangju City-compiled statistics, NKDP lawmakers said that the number of deaths in the city in June 1980 was unusually high.

Based on other statistics, however, the government and the DJP said the statistics cited by the NKDP were incorrect.

FURTHER ON USIS OCCUPATION INCIDENT

Lawmakers Dispute Campus, Labor Problems

SK010111 Seoul THE KOREA TIMES in English 1 Jun 85 p 1

[Text] A leading official of the main opposition New Korea Democratic Party proposed yesterday that the National Assembly set up an ad hoc committee to handle campus problems, which he claimed have emerged as a serious national issue.

Pointing out that the campus problems cannot be solved by the "physical measures" of the government, Rep Yi Ki-taek, a vice president of the NDP, said that the parliament should find solutions to campus problems at any cost without clinging to partisan interests.

In an interpellation of the campus about social and cultural affairs in a plenary session of the Assembly, he claimed, "The government has not shown efforts to identify the agony of students in campus disturbances, instead, the government has only resorted to police force to bring under control the disturbances."

Four lawmakers, including Yi, questioned the government mainly about campus and labor problems in their respective interpellations.

Opposition lawmakers were consistent in demanding that the government treat the students involved in the Seoul USIS library occupation "leniently."

Rep Yi said that lenient measures for the students would help create a turning point for the solution of campus problems.

Rep Yi Tae-sun of the ruling Democratic Justice Party urged the government to cope with campus problems with a far-sighted policy, pointed out that the people "are yearning to see the chronic campus commotion end after the radical students' seizure of the USIS library."

In particular, he stressed, "Now is the time when the people must know what is taking place on campus and the government should solve campus problems with the cooperation of the people."

He asked if the government intended to issue a "white paper on campus" through study and analysis of campus problems by the College Education Consultative Council or research institutes in each school.

Rep Kim Tek-su of the NDP claimed that student demonstrations were taking place almost every day because the government was not ready to "absorb" the discontent of the people.

"Voices of students are not their own, but are voices of the people wishing ardently for the national democratization," he claimed.

He asked if demonstrations led by elected representatives of students were demonstrations of "a small minority of students?"

Then, he insisted that the true picture of the Kwangju incident should be unveiled to prevent the second and third USIS incident.

Rep Choe Yong-an of the minor opposition Korea National Party viewed that the prerequisite for the solution of campus problems was political democratization.

"Political leaders, including the Chief Executive, are required to obtain the confidence of the people by realizing a clean politics," he said.

As to labor problem, opposition lawmakers demanded a sweeping reform in labor laws and introduction of minimum wage system.

They also asked the government to invigorate the press so as to eliminate rumors and trends of mutual distrust that they claimed were prevailing in society.

In reply, Prime Minister No Sin-yong said that the arrest of "only 25" out of the 73 students who seized the USIS building reflected the government's lenient position toward the students.

He said, "The 25 students under detention will be dealt with on the basis of the result of police interrogation."

As to his views on the mass media, the premier stressed the importance of guaranteeing the press freedom as stipulated by the Constitution, but he said, "The press function of criticism should be accompanied by the sense of responsibility in view of the confrontation with militant North Korea."

Education Minister Son Chae-sok said that the so-called "Sammintu" of the National Federation of Student Association, which masterminded the recent sit-in protest at the USIS building, was a "group intended for political struggle composed of radical students from some 30 universities nationwide."

Opposition Term Kwangju 'Righteous'

SK010121 Seoul THE KOREA TIMES in English 1 Jun 85 p 4

[From the column "Press Pocket"]

[Text] Lawmakers on the National Assembly Home Affairs Committee Thursday grilled the government on the recent students' seizure of the USIS library, but the panel debate was largely an exchange of overlapping questions and answers.

Opposition lawmakers inquired of Home Minister Chong Sok-mo if the government is trying to "create a Communist Party" by condemning the protesters as "pro-communist."

The lawmakers of the main opposition New Korea Democratic Party (NDP), terming the Kwangju incident as the "most disgraceful event" in the country since the National Foundation, asked Minister Chong if the government still considers the "cover-up" of the facts about the incident as the best means to calm down the people's sentiment.

The oppositionists described the Kwangju incident as a "righteous uprising."

REPORTAGE ON NATIONAL ASSEMBLY'S DEBATE STYLE

DJP's Difficulty in Dealing With NKDP

SK040208 Seoul THE KOREA TIMES in Wnglish 4 Jun 85 p 5

[Article by Pak Mu-chong]

[Text] The 12th-term National Assembly has spent only 53 days of its term as of yesterday after its legal term began on April 11, but it has shown a feature quite different from that of the previous 11th-term house.

That the new house will not be the same as the old one was well heralded when the Feb 12 general elections produced a surprising surge of the newly-founded New Korea Democratic Party as the first opposition party in place of the Democratic Korea Party.

Founders of the NDP, mostly old-school politicians who were forced to stay away from the political arena for the four years of the 11th-term house, vowed from the start that they would show "something different" in the new house.

And they did so. They tried to convince the ruling Democratic Justice Party which had been accustomed to somewhat "easy-going" politics with its previous partner, DPK, that the NDP is a serious political contender aiming at power itself.

The DJP suffered first hardship as the NDP delayed the inauguration of the new house for about a month, pressing the ruling party to accept its demands for the amnesty of Kim Tae-chung and other dissidents and for the release of what they call "prisoners of conscience."

After a month-long tough negotiation, the DJP and NDP managed to convene the inaugural session of the new legislature on May 13, but the contest produced neither winner nor loser.

The DJP recognized through the sparring that the NDP was not the same as its previous partner, and sought diversified ways of coping with the expected political offensives of the NDP in the inaugural session of the new parliament.

Entering the assembly, the NDP whose members are wirepulled by dissident leaders Kim Tae-chung and Kim Yong-sam to a considerable extent refused to agree with the DJP even on trifling issues such as the order of speeches in the plenary session.

In the course of negotiations with the NDP, DJP officials maintained an attitude of self-restraint and pursued dialogue.

DJP chairman Rep No Tae-u said before leaving for East Germany to attend the IOC congress Friday that the first session of the new house was "sailing well, thanks to efforts of all (including the NDP)."

But, the session shortly turned into a scene of great commotion filled with shouts, boos, and abusive words reminiscent of the assembly in the 50s.

The cause was radical remarks by some NDP lawmakers in their cabinet interpellation in the plenary session and in standing committee sessions, and the DJP lawmakers could not maintain their composure.

The confrontation between the two parties reached a climax Saturday when Rep Yi Chol of the NDP made personal attacks on the present and past presidents' families and expressed his ideological views.

The student activist-turned lawmaker of the NDP surprised the DJP lawmakers and cabinet members by saying..."The Republic of Korea cannot pursue unification while simply denying the North Korean ideological system which is based on the concept of equality."

He asked the administration to make "a choice between revolution and reformation to meet the call of the times and to achieve the liberation of the masses and unification of the nation...."

Some DJP lawmakers claimed that Yi "seemed to speak for North Korea, insulted the head of state, and shook the national foundation...."

It is clear that the political situation will fall into tough tension immediately if the DJP comes up with a demand for the reprimand of Rep Yi in accordance with the provisions of the National Assembly Law.

In this case, the NDP, which is determined to support Yi's remarks positively, is sure to resist the DJP's move strongly.

Besides NDP members' remarks exceeding the "danger level," the NDP's persistent demand for the investigation of the Kwangju incident which occurred five years ago also convinced the DJP that the NDP was quite different from the DKP in the previous house.

The DKP had never pressed the DJP and the government to prove the truth of the bloody incident for the past four years.

Political observers point out that the DJP is fighting "real hard battles" against the new partner coming out of the "green house of controlled politics" of the past years.

The DJP members, mostly political novices, pitted against professionals having long opposition careers, are clinging only to defending themselves from the offensives of the NDP.

It is hard to tell if they can turn the tide in the foreseeable future, they said.

Lawmakers Urged To Respect Principle of Democracy

SK040151 Seoul THE KOREA TIMES in English 4 Jun 85 p 4

[Editorial: "Mode of Assembly Debate"]

[Text] The current session of the National Assembly has entered its second phase of operation to discuss specific issues at standing committees, winding up two weeks of general debate in plenary session which featured keynote speeches by the representatives of three major political parties and the questioning of cabinet members on a broad range of national affairs.

Through the just-concluded interpellation of government ministers, the newly-elected parliament displayed a reinvigorated political climate--with opposition questioners touching on issues previously regarded as taboo, and cabinet members having given more substantive answers than before.

In such an area as economic problems, even the ruling party members were forthright in pinpointing what they argued as maladministration or defaults in government policies.

But then, the eight-day interpellation was often marred by uproars and exchange of vociferous oaths between the ruling and opposition party members, especially the one which developed over the past weekend involving a harsh criticism of the government by an opposition lawmaker.

Even granting that a rejuvenated parliament may not always proceed smoothly, the eruption of boisterous happenings--and at that in such a crude manner from the beginning of the new assembly's function--arouses concern as to the future of the legislature with a four-year term.

What the parliamentarians ought to keep in their minds is the crucial need that their activity be consistent with and conform to the decency, authority and productivity of the assembly, the forum of representative democracy of the nation.

The lawmakers are also expected to respect the constitutional principle of democracy, though they represent diverse segments of the national life and have the privilege of immunity from liability for speeches made on the parliamentary floor.

The lawmakers are also expected to respect the constitutional principle of democracy, though they represent diverse segments of the national life and have the privilege of immunity from liability for speeches made on the parliamentary floor.

In this stage of political development, an evolutionary process based on stability is one thing the people at large wish to see materialized.

Accordingly, reason should prevail over emotionalism and rationalism over radicalism so as to accelerate the overall national progress without inviting another outbreak of turmoil or destructive confrontation between the government and opposition camps.

NKDP Lawmakers' Remarks Criticized

SK050155 Seoul THE KOREA HERALD in English 5 Jun 85 p 4

[Editorial: "Radical Floor Speech"]

[Text] Quite a few more hardline opposition candidates than expected were elected to the National Assembly in February's poll. This undoubtedly was indicative of the voters' desire to see political progress on the basis of stability.

Voters wanted their Assemblymen to undertake reforms within the framework of the current constitutional order. All our lawmakers embarked on that job by taking the oath required under the Constitution.

Thus we find it deplorable that some opposition Assemblymen are engaging in acts that obviously deviate from the constitutional framework. Such behavior contradicts their professed goal of promoting the cause of democracy.

We are especially concerned that a lawmaker of the main opposition New Korea Democratic Party called for a "revolution of the masses." Never before in parliamentary democracy have we heard such flagrant agitation for revolution.

Such statements jeopardize the cause of democracy that this Republic is committed to uphold. Such advocacy is at best an act of abusing parliamentarians' right to immunity from censuring on the Assembly floor.

They echo the demands of the so-called struggle committee for the three principles of the people, an illegal student organization whose members seized the USIS library in Seoul late last month. The "democracy of the masses" the committee advocates is quite different from the concept of liberal democracy.

The committee excludes capitalists, the middle class and high income-earning workers from its definition of "the masses," thereby indicating a struggle between classes. In a genuine democracy, all citizens are the actual sovereigns of their nation. None need be targets for "liberation" through a revolution.

Of course, Korea is not yet a paradise of liberal democracy. But we are progressing toward that goal in what we have determined to be the best possible way. Our Constitution is the product of that determination.

The Assembly is where efforts must be made to promote the cause of free democracy. Mindful of this, we deplore that certain lawmakers have made such reckless remarks on the Assembly floor. They must be made to understand that they are not simply agitators on the streets.

Should a revolution of the masses occur as they have called for, our efforts to achieve a liberal democracy would have been thwarted. The results would be catastrophic even for them, their families and their party. The NKDP must be made aware of the danger inherent in its reckless remarks.

Demagoguery that threatens our national survival should under no circumstances be allowed. The Assembly should do its best to prove itself as a genuine forum for bolstering the cause of liberal democracy and national prosperity.

NKDP's Efforts for Parliamentary Democracy

SK070233 Seoul THE KOREA TIMES in English 7 Jun 85 p 4

[Text] The spokesman of the ruling Democratic Justice Party used a mixture of praise and admonitions yesterday when commenting on the attitudes of the opposition New Korea Democratic Party during the current special National Assembly session.

Rep Sim Myong-po said, "I think the NKDP is demonstrating political maturity probably because many of its lawmakers have had abundant experience in politics."

Sim said that he has the impression that the main opposition party endeavors to maintain parliamentary democracy.

"I think it is important to try to see the woods rather than the trees," he added.

REPORTER ON NATION UNDERGOING SITUATIONAL CHANGES

SK010115 Seoul THE KOREA TIMES in English 1 Jun 85 p 8

[By City Editor Chong Un-pong from the column "News in Review"]

[Text] There have been a lot of events these weeks. So many that people feel dizzy. And thoughtful people may well suspect that the nation is placed overnight in the heat of circumstantial changes on and around the Korean peninsula.

On the close heels of the end of the seizure of the U.S. Information Service library by students, the nation was put under the sway of the inter-Korea Red Cross talks.

The talks, which came after a long lull of 12 years, ended up with an agreement that South and North Korea try to exchange hometown visitors on Aug 15.

The idea is very tempting and tasty, but tantalizing as well because of past history of dialogue with North Korea.

No less eye-opening is a Moscow-dated wire story that the Soviet Union gave off a strong hint that it will come to Seoul for the forthcoming Olympics in 1988.

This fact alone is very important since the Soviet Union has shunned Seoul as an Olympic venue. Equally important is the fact that the news was broken forth at the time when the North Korean Red Cross delegation was in Seoul for talks.

Undoubtedly, North Korea is not happy at the news since it has been all out to foil the holding of the Olympics in Seoul.

On purpose or not, the Soviet authorities let on their intention of coming to Seoul, however. Three days later, another wire story broke that Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko is to visit Pyongyang in August.

The projected visit may well be a kind of fence mending, taking note of the fact that China's strongman Hu Yaobang recently made a quick visit to North Korea.

Topping off these are the seemingly favorable move in Japan's ruling Liberal Democratic Party to North Korea's beckoning signals.

Japan's Premier Yasuhiro Nakasone said, according to a wire service, a serious study will be made of the matter of sending a mission to North Korea. Japan does not have diplomatic relations with North Korea.

Several LDP members visited North Korea in the past. But the visits were on an individual basis, not on party basis.

Something that may have a bearing on the future of the nation appears to be in the making.

Students in the sphere of activism do not slacken their struggle for "democracy and unification."

The blitzkreig takeover of the USIS library by students ended "peacefully." But this cannot be said to be an end of the matter. There is no sign of letdown of student activism.

Now that the Red Cross talks are over, the on-going interpellation session of the just-formed National Assembly is brought back to the limelight.

No doubt, the students' seizure of the USIS library added fuel to the fire of bipartisan wrangling concerning the Kwangju incident five years ago. The incident is a debt of the present regime.

At home and abroad, situational changes appear to be in the offing, requiring all of the people, including students and politicians, to brace themselves for an uncertain future.

LAWMAKERS INTERPELLATION AT ASSEMBLY SESSION 30 MAY

SK011330 Seoul TONG-A ILBO in Korean 31 May 85 p 2

[From the column "Tidbits"]

[Text] At the session of the National Assembly Foreign Affairs Committee held on the morning of 30 May to deal with the students' sit-in at the American Cultural Center, representative Yi Chol-sung of the New Korea Democratic Party [NKDP] said: "Never have I, who have participated in politics for 40 years since the national founding, been more uneasy and melancholy than in recent days. Please, have a good understanding of the root cause of the reality in which even the slogan 'Yankees, Go Home' has been put forth."

Representative Yi stated: "In the past, anticomunism has meant patriotism. But, now, anticomunism even evokes rejection symptoms in some sense. Did such a phenomenon exist during any past regimes?"

DJP lawmaker Kim Yong-chak noted the pointlessness, item by item, shown in the report by Foreign Minister Yi Won-kyong, saying: "It is very natural to deal with the students who participated in the sit-in in accordance with domestic laws. But, you, Mr Minister, have explained about them in a long-winded fashion. Your long-winded explanation itself is wrong."

DJP lawmaker Kim Hak-chun said: "The country named the United States is the country which is trying to sell its tobacco to other countries, while enlightening its own citizens by saying that tobacco is harmful to health."

Lawmaker Yi Kon-il of the NKDP asked: "If the students are a pro-communist group, the latest incident means that communists trampled underfoot the American Cultural Center in groups. Is this not a problem concerning public security?"

NDKP Lawmaker's Remarks Against President

SK040135 Seoul THE KOREA HERALD in English 4 Jun 85 p 4

[Text] Lawmakers of the rival Democratic Justice Party and New Korea Democratic Party exchanged charges at the National Assembly Home Affairs Committee yesterday.

As Rep Yu Song-hwan of the opposition NKDP made what seemed to be scathing remarks against the president, ruling DJP lawmakers shouted, "Stop it. Apologize."

In the face of strong offensive from DJP lawmakers, however, Rep Yu said, "If I am mistaken, shoot me in the chest."

As the tumult showed no signs of dying away, committee chairman Kwon Chong-tal adjourned the committee session.

During the recess, the DJP tried in vain to make the NKDP lawmaker offer an explicit apology for what they termed blasphemy against the head of state.

The minor opposition Korea National Party tried to mediate between the two parties but failed.

As a result, the session failed to resume.

Yi Min-u Opposes Provocative Remarks

SK040138 Seoul THE KOREA HERALD in English 4 Jun 85 p 4

[Text] Yi Min-u, president of the opposition New Korea Democratic Party, appeared to be at a loss yesterday when he was told that the Assembly Home Affairs Committee adjourned because of Rep Yu's controversial remarks.

Yi said to Rep Pak Yong-man with a sigh, "(Yu) could have done a better job in observing the proprieties." He told Pak that party senior lawmakers should give proper guidance lest first-term legislators make provocative remarks.

Recalling his career as assembly man, Yi said that he focused his efforts on understanding government business, while refraining from questioning government ministers on state administration.

Yi also advised Rep Yu over lunch to refrain from making "provocative" remarks, although he understands Yu's true desire is only to serve the nation.

A key post holder of the ruling Democratic Justice Party, however, brushed aside the information as "groundless." He said that the rumor was circulated because some DJP lawmakers hit severely the economic policies of the government during the interpellation sessions. Another DJP ranking official said that some might be guessing about a reshuffle in ministerial posts because of the economic slump and the recent seizure of the United States Information Service library in Seoul by students. He added, "It is not proper to shake up the Cabinet when the National Assembly continues its inaugural session." He was commenting on the DJP's attitude toward a controversial floor speech of Rep Yi Chol of the NKDP at a meeting of the party Executive Council. ECONOMY SHOWS SIGNS OF RECOVERY IN APRIL

SK040657 Seoul YONHAP in English 0640 GMT 4 Jun 85

[Text] Seoul, 4 Jun (YONHAP)--The South Korean economy showed signs of recovery in April, Sin Pyung-hyon, deputy premier and economic planning minister, said Tuesday.

In a monthly inter-ministerial meeting on economic trends, Sin said that the April coincident composite indicator, which reflects the current business environment, was 126.6, up 0.6 percent from the previous month.

The leading business index, which indicates economic conditions in the coming two to three months, registered an impressive 1.5 percent gain in April, from the previous month. Before April, it had fallen for three consecutive months.

The cycle of coincident composite indexes, which reflects the present business atmosphere after an adjustment for seasonal factors has been made, also rose for the first time, this year, to 105.2 points. A reading of 100 points or more indicates an across-the-board upturn of the national economy.

All of Korea's nine economic indicators, except the overall stock price index, rose in April, Sin said.

Industrial output in April rose by 0.4 percent from March, but commodity shipments dropped by 1.9 percent.

Manufacturing industries operated at 82.1 percent of their capacity in April--the same as the March level. The operation of small- and medium-sized business improved slightly, and the employment situation remained stable in April.

With the arrival of the demand season in April, the number of construction permits granted rose by 7.5 percent from March. Construction orders also increased considerably, due to a large number of government orders.

Machinery orders and import licenses for machinery also increased by 27 percent and 15.9 percent, respectively.

As a result of an increased supply of general and farming funds, the total money supply increased by 11.4 percent in April from the level of a year earlier.

Although exports in April edged up by 0.8 percent from the same month last year, receipts of export letters of credit dropped by 6.3 percent. Imports declined by 4.3 percent.

The current account deficits in April totaled 148 million dollars. During the January-April period, the current account deficits amounted to 728 million dollars, an improvement of 609 million dollars from the same period last year.

Minister Yi said, "The measure is designed to prevent the outbreak of even one AIDS case though the disease is not expected to be prevalent in this country."

Thus far, AIDS cases are reported in Korea but Japanese health authorities announced recently the outbreak of five AIDS cases among Japanese. [as published]

Meanwhile, the minister said that registered nurses will serve as stewards of KAL as a means of providing efficient first aid treatment to passengers, if necessary.

249 Refuse Fingerprinting

SK030208 Seoul YONHAP in English 0157 GMT 3 Jun 85

[Text] Tokyo, 3 Jun (OANA-YONHAP)--The number of aliens in Japan who have refused to be fingerprinted, a controversial practice required by the Japan's alien registration law, stood at 263. Of them, 249 or 95 percent are Korean residents, the Japanese Justice Ministry announced here Monday.

Three out of four Korean residents defiant of the fingerprinting system are in their teens, and the defiance is especially strong among the second or third generations of the Koreans who had been taken to Japan for forced labor during the Second World War under Japan's colonial occupation of Korea, the ministry said.

The other aliens listed by the ministry included seven Americans, two French and one each from England, China, Belgium, Ireland and Australia.

A Korean professor teaching at a Japanese college said that it is very natural for Korean young men born in Japan to demand the treatment equitable with that accorded Japanese people.

Under the controversial Japanese law, all foreigners are obliged to undergo fingerprinting when they request the issuance or renewal of foreigners' registration cards. Resident Koreans say that the law discriminates against them numbering about 600,000.

The organizers have received applications from nine nations--Taiwan, India, Pakistan, Japan, Malaysia, Thailand, Hong Kong, Singapore and host South Korea. In response to a recent request by the International Hockey Federation (FIH), China and Sri Lanka are also expected to compete in the event. If China sends a team to the championships, and if that team meets the Taiwanese squad on the field hockey rink, it will be the first clash between a Chinese and Taiwanese team ever in Korea. To prevent Taiwan from withdrawing from the competition at the last minute, the organizers have asked the FIH to work out arrangements that will be acceptable to both China and Taiwan. The message says:

During the whole period of our stay in your country, we saw for ourselves the great successes which have been achieved by your people under your wise leadership over the past 50 years since the country's liberation from the Japanese imperialist rule, and we were deeply impressed by them.

In particular, two facts among all we experienced during our visit are truly unforgettable.

The most important event among them was that we were received again by you, respected Comrade Kim Il-song.

It is of particularly great significance that we had your audience again.

This is because you had close intimacy with my beloved father Comrade Otto Grotewohl.

Everywhere we went your people highly appreciated our affectionate feelings towards your country and your people.

Each time we were estimated, we felt our hearts stirring very much and each time we proudly said that our second native place is Korea.

We are delighted very much by the further expansion and strengthening of the traditional friendship between the two countries in accordance with the treaty of friendship and cooperation signed by you in person during your visit to our country in 1984.

The message sincerely wishes President Kim Il-song good health and a long life.

KULLOJA NO 6 ARTICLE SCORES U.S. STAR WARS PROGRAM

SK060414 Pyongyang KCNA in English 0359 GMT 6 Jun 85

[Text] Pyongyang, 6 Jun (KCNA)--The U.S. imperialists must immediately stop their criminal moves to militarize the outer space and unleash a nuclear war, stresses KULLOJA No 6, 1985, the organ of the Central Committee of the Workers' Party of Korea, in a signed article titled "Reckless 'Star Wars' Program of U.S. Imperialism."

It says in part:

Warhawk Reagan brazenly claims that the "star wars" program is a mere "study program" to realize the U.S. "strategic defense plan," but this is a sophistry to conceal the essence of criminal U.S. nuclear war moves and deceive public opinion and people of the world.

The Reagan administration, most bellicose ever among the successive U.S. administrations, is stepping up nuclear arms buildup more feverishly than its predecessors with a view to getting a "nuclear upper hand" at any cost and establishing the "sphere of domination" over the world on this basis in its global strategy based on the "policy of strength."

The "star wars" program is a direct product of the U.S. imperialists' policy of aggression and war and an extension of their nuclear war provocation moves to a more adventurous stage.

The program projected by the U.S. imperialists is in essence aimed at turning the outer space into a nuclear war base, maintaining their "nuclear superiority" and making the United States the only power that can strike a forestalling blow at any point and object in the outer space as well as our planet without meeting any nuclear retaliation.

The U.S. imperialists are dreaming of establishing a "space shield" to take a "sword" for a preemptive attack on the socialist and other progressive countries and easily realize their wild ambition for world supremacy with it.

They have been undisguisedly hastening the "star wars" program in recent years.

The program may escalate the danger of nuclear war and nuclear warms race, increase the tension and inflict the scourge of war on mankind.

If the U.S. imperialists persistently go ahead with the reckless program of militarizing the outer space against the trend of the times, it will only deepen their political, economic and military crisis and precipitate self-destruction.

COMMENT ON ALLEGED POPE ASSASSIN

Bulgaria's Antonov Release Demanded

SK030401 Pyongyang KCNA in English 0336 GMT 3 Jun 85

[Text] Pyongyang, 3 Jun (KCNA)--The Central Committee of the General Federation of Trade Unions of Korea, the Central Committee of the League of Socialist Working Youth of Korea, the Central Committee of the Korean Journalists Union, the Korean Democratic Lawyers Association, the Korean Committee for Asian-African Solidarity and the Korea-Bulgaria Friendship Association sent messages or letters to their Bulgarian counterparts, expressing solidarity with the Bulgarian people in their just struggle for the release of Bulgarian citizen Sergei Antonov.

The messages and letters branded Italian authorities' unreasonable arrest and persecution of Antonov as an open violation of human rights recognized by international law and taking him to court as a sinister political provocation of the international reactionaries aimed to strengthen the smear campaign against Bulgaria and other socialist countries.

Considering the unreasonable arrest of Antonov to be an unpardonable crime, the letters and messages noted that he must be set free unconditionally and immediately.

U.S. Fabrication of 'Antonov' Case

SK050424 Pyongyang KCNA in English 0400 GMT 5 Jun 85

[Text] Pyongyang, 5 Jun (KCNA)--The desperate attempt of the U.S. imperialists to link Antonov in a far-fetched way with the attempt on the life of the pope is intended to disparage the daily rising international position of Bulgaria and use it in the anti-socialist propaganda, declares NODONG SINMUN today in an article lashing out at the intrigues of the U.S. imperialists and the international reaction surrounding the "Antonov case."

Recalling that no sooner had the incident of sniping at the pope broke out than the U.S. imperialists started a smear campaign to connect it with Bulgaria without any ground, the paper says:

Two years and a half have passed since Antonov was arrested. But the competent authorities have not yet produced any evidence of his conspiracy in the incident. The only evidence is the false statement of the assassin Agca.

It has been ascertained that Antonov had never seen Agca the sniper or had correspondence with him and he was occupied with his routine work at his office when the incident occurred.

All these facts prove that the "Antonov case" is, to all intents and purposes, faked up premeditatedly under the direct command of the U.S. imperialists.

Falsity and fabrication will lead them nowhere.

Antonov must be released unconditionally and at once.

DENOUNCEMENT OF RADIO MARTI

DPRK Committee's Comment

SK051034 Pyongyang KCNA in English 1020 GMT 5 Jun 85

[Text] Pyongyang, 5 Jun (KCNA)--The Korean National Peace Committee in a statement today says that the United States must look squarely at the reality today and stop its reckless anti-Cuba campaign at once.

Recalling that the United States some time ago opened a plot-breeding broadcasting center called "Radio Marti" arbitrarily abusing the name of Jose Marti, a national hero of Cuba, the statement says:

It is designed to violate the sovereignty of Cuba and fool and mislead world opinion.

The Korean National Peace Committee, it continues, strongly protests and denounces this act of the United States as an unpardonable grave provocation against a sovereign and independent state and a downright encroachment upon the publicly recognized international laws.

The establishment of the anti-Cuba broadcasting center is part of the desperate attempts of the U.S. imperialists to bar a triumphant advance of the Cuban revolution.

With no maneuvers can the U.S. imperialists stifle the Cuban revolution.

The Korean people will always stand firmly behind the Cuban people and, in the future, too, do everything possible in supporting and encouraging their just struggle.

Solidarity Committee's Comment

SK041522 Pyongyang KCNA in English 1509 GMT 4 Jun 85

[Text] Pyongyang, 4 Jun (KCNA)--The Korean Committee for Solidarity with the World People issued a statement today in connection with the fact that recently the U.S. imperialists set up a broadcasting center abusing the name of Jose Marti, the national hero of Cuba, and launched propaganda against Cuba.

The statement bitterly denounced the brigandish act of the United States as an unbearable insult to the Cuban people, an infringement upon the sovereignty of Cuba and an intolerable provocation flouting world public opinion, and said:

In setting up the anti-Cuba smear propaganda center the United States seeks to disturb Cuba from within and put down the sentiments of anti-U.S. and independence which are running ever higher in Latin America and Caribbean region.

With no smear propaganda, however, can the U.S. imperialists call a halt to the victorious advance of the Cuban people vigorously forging ahead along the road of socialism.

Today the Cuban people under the leadership of the Communist Party of Cuba headed by Comrade Fidel Castro Ruz are vigorously striving to increase the nation's defense capacity and accelerate socialist construction with a firm determination to fight to the end against the aggressive and subversive maneuvers of the U.S. imperialists and in defense of the gains of the revolution and peace.

The U.S. imperialists must give up the foolish scheme and immediately disband the anti-Cuba smear propaganda center.

We fully support the stand clarified by the Cuban Government in its May 20 statement and fight shoulder to shoulder with the Cuban people, firmly standing on their side in the struggle for defending their motherland and national sovereignty.

We call upon the world's progressive people who treasure peace and justice to launch a vigorous movement against the U.S. imperialists' anti-Cuba smear propaganda.

U.S. KOREAN WAR MONUMENT--Pyongyang, 1 Jun (KCNA)--The plan to erect a "monument" to the participants in the war of aggression on Korea is aimed at justifying this disgraceful war and whitewashing the U.S. dark history of criminal aggressions, stresses NODONG SINMUN today in a signed commentary denouncing the U.S. imperialists for preparing to submit to Congress a bill on building in Washington a "monument" to the participants in the last war of aggression in Korea. It says: The present U.S. Administration's plan to erect a "monument" in praise of the aggression forces who participated in the Korean war seeks a sinister intention to justify its unpardonable scheme to unleash another war in Korea and mobilize the American people again in the war. The U.S. Administration aims to realize its wild ambition for "world supremacy" by creating a new criminal history far outdistancing the past one full of aggression and war, slaughter and plunder. But, this is a day-dream. [Text] [Pyongyang KCNA in English 0410 GMT 1 Jun 85 SK]
